An Unlooked for Deludge.

NORWAY WILL BE FREE OR FREE

Proposes to Maintain Declaration of Independence from Sweden at All Costs.

SYMPATHY FOR KING OSCAR

Norway from today is a fully independent and sovereign state.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

CHRISTIANA, NORWAY, June 7.—The above is the text of the editorials in the Norwegian newspapers, and it reflects the spirit with which the people of Norway accept today's action of the storthing, when it proclaimed King Oscar no longer king of Norway.

The storthing will, if necessary, defend the step taken today by force of arms. King Oscar has been asked to co-operate in the selection of a prince of his own house as king, but if a scion of the house of Bernadotte should consent to occupy the throne of Norway, he must give up all idea of succession to the Swedish throne. It is not anticipated that King Oscar will consent to any prince of his house accepting the Norwegian crown. Should the king refuse, there is a possibility that the throne may be offered to Prince Waldemar, third son of King Christian of Denmark. The people of Denmark largely sympathize with the Norwegian demands.

The announcement that Emperor William has abandoned his projected visit to Norway has given rise to a feeling that there will be future trouble.

Following is the resolution passed by the storthing, unanimously and without debate:

Text of Declaration.

Whereas, All the members of the council of state have laid down their offices, and

Whereas, His majesty the king has declared himself unable to establish a new government for the country, and

Whereas, The constitutional regal power thus becomes inoperative, the storthing authorizes the members of the council of state who retired today to exercise, until further notice, as the Norwegian government, the power appertaining to the king in accordance with Norway's constitution and existing laws, with those changes which are necessitated by the fact that the union with Sweden under one king is dissolved in consequence of the king having ceased to act as a Norwegian king.

At its meeting this evening the storthing adopted a proclamation to the Norwegian people, in which is given a detailed account of the events preceding the passing of the resolution. This proclamation concludes as follows:

The storthing hopes that the Norwegian people will succeed in living in peace and on good terms with all, and not the least with the Swedish people, to whom we are linked by so many natural ties.

The storthing is sure that people will join with it and with the government in maintaining the full independence of Norway and with firmness and dignified tranquility submit to the necessary sacrifices; and it is further sure that all subjects will fully respect all ordinances and prescriptions from the government.

Must Yield Obedience.

All officials, civil and military, must in every respect yield that obedience which the government has the right to claim, according to the authority transferred to it by the storthing in the name of the people of Norway.

The proceedings throughout the monotonous session of the storthing were marked by supreme good order and by the utmost dignity. The plans had been most carefully prepared and nothing had been omitted to secure the inauguration of a new government under the best auspices. That the feeling was intense was evidenced by the great gatherings of people outside the storthing during the early session and after the announcement of the result of the proceedings. A quiet respect was shown the members as they left the building. There was not the

EXECUTORS FACE FRAUD CHARGE AGAINST KIMBERLY

Two Million Dollars Is Involved in the Suit—Will Is Filed for Probate at Mercer, a Brother Getting the Largest Amount.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 7.—A $2,000,000 fraud, charged against the late Peter L. Kimberly, is the basis for a suit which the executors must defend. Kimberly, who died at 4636 Drexel boulevard on Sunday, left an estate estimated at $8,000,000.

The charge of fraud is made by the Great Western Gold Company of California. It is declared that, by entering into a conspiracy with former officers of the company, Kimberly sold to the company for $2,000,000 properties the real value of which was $750,000. Kimberly is asserted to have divided $1,250,000 with his co-conspirators. At stake in the suit which Kimberly defended in the circuit and United States circuit courts until his death is the ownership of a certificate of stock in the Great Western Company, said to be worth $500,000; also $25,000 in cash.

SHARON, June 7.—The will of Peter L. Kimberly as probated at Mercer today. Ira G. Bassett of Cleveland, George A. Baird, general sales agent of the Republic Iron and Steel Company of Chicago, and John C. Owsley of Sharon are named as executors. The bequests are as follows:

Amos Kimberly, brother of deceased, of Iowa, 1½ per cent; Charles Kimberly, Mary Minerva Sankey, Viola J. Webb, Samuel Otis Kimberly, Kate Katherine Williamson, each 3 per cent; Kate N. Murdock, stepsister of deceased, 4 per cent; Elizabeth Asay of Chicago, in whose house Kimberly died; John C. Owsley of Sharon, Ira G. Bassett of Cleveland and George A. Baird of Chicago, each 5 per cent; Charles Murdock and William Murdock, each 2½ per cent; Katherine Kimberly, Emma Cotton, Elmer Kimberly, William Kimberly, each 3 per cent; Rachael Jones of Iron Mountain, Mich.; Reuben Williamson of Sharon, James Brainard of Pittsburgh, each 1 per cent; Frank A. What is left of the 23 per cent, about $2,000,000, goes to charity, but no institutions are mentioned in the will.

RACING AUTOMOBILE STRIKES THREE MEN

Italian Trio Mowed Down at Harmarville, but Chauffeur Does Not Hesitate.

While racing with a freight train on the West Penn railroad, an automobile struck three Italians near the station at Harmarville last night and hurled them to the ground. They were not seriously injured.

The Italians were standing near the track waiting for the freight train to pass, and did not see or hear the automobile coming. The car contained five persons, some of whom were women. The chauffeur made no effort to stop, and word was telephoned to Aspinwall to apprehend the party, but no arrest had been made at a late hour last night.

It is said by those who saw the accident that the automobile bore the license number 806. Attorney James Francis Burke, who is an official of the Pittsburgh Automobile club, said last night he had no idea who the owner of the car bearing that license number was, but believed the machine to be one of recent purchase because of the large number it bore.

LIGHTNING STRIKES LANTERN, MAN ESCAPES INJURY

Flagman Patrick King, who is stationed at the Eighth street crossing over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in Braddock, had a peculiar experience early yesterday morning during the storm. LIGHTNING CAUSES TROLLEY RUNAWAY Car Is Struck and Brakes Are Rendered Useless—Motorman Is Hurled to Ground.

While Crafton and Ingram traction car 8214 was running from Carnegie junction to Ingram, shortly after noon yesterday, the car was struck by lightning, rendering the motor and brake useless.

The car dashed wildly down the incline. As it struck the first curve Motorman Frank Bebout was hurled from the front platform and rendered unconscious. Neither passengers nor conductor were aware of the motorman's mishap until the car came to a sudden stop after jumping the track and running 100 feet across a vacant lot, stopped at the edge of a cellar excavation.

The motorman was found lying beside the track, several hundred feet back. He was given medical attention, recovered consciousness, and was taken home. None of the passengers was seriously injured.

NEW YORK, June 7.—A cable dispatch received at the Venezuelan consulate here today announced the election of Gen. Capriano Castro as constitutional president of Venezuela.

CZAR WANTS PEACE TERMS--NEGOTIATIONS BEGUN

His Ambassadors in Washington and Elsewhere Are So Notified.

WILL TREAT DIRECT

So Run Advices to Russia's Representatives as Learned by Way of Vienna.

HAS REPLIED TO PRESIDENT

Despite the conflicting dispatches printed below, diplomats in Washington incline to the belief that the czar of Russia has sent to President Roosevelt a response in reply to the president's tender of his good services in any movement that may be calculated to bring Russia and Japan together in peace negotiations; and that the czar's response is in the nature of a tentative acceptance of the president's offer insofar, at least, as preliminary negotiations are concerned.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—As a result of the meeting of the council of ministers held at Tsarskoe-Selo yesterday, instructions were telegraphed this afternoon to the Russian ambassadors at Washington and Paris to the effect that Russia is desirous of learning Japan's peace conditions.

Will Treat With Japan Direct.

VIENNA, June 7.—It is learned here tonight that the Russian government has informed its diplomatic representatives abroad, including Count Cassini, the ambassador at Washington, that the time for Russia to conclude peace has not yet come, and that when it does arrive Russia will open peace negotiations with Japan, independent of foreign intervention.

May Use the President.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—With Ambassador Meyer's delivery to the emperor yesterday afternoon of President Roosevelt's message tendering his good offices, the prospect of the president's efforts to bring the belligerents together in peace negotiations is believed to be distinctly brighter.

It is equally evident the situation is an exceedingly delicate one. Ambassador Meyer, when seen tonight, declined to say a word regarding his visit to Tsarskoe-Selo, the mission with which he is charged, or the emperor's response.

The center of interest is again transferred to Washington. Count Cassini has doubtless received instructions from the emperor. However, it will probably require some little time to finally decide whether success shall crown the president's efforts to end the war.

Czar Sends a Reply.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—President Roosevelt, when this dispatch reaches America, should be in possession of Emperor Nicholas' response to his tender of good offices.

The efforts that President Roosevelt has been making to bring the belligerents together entered on a distinctly new phase last night. Foreign Minister Lamsdorff had an audience of the emperor in the afternoon on the subject of Ambassador Cassini's communication, and at 11 o'clock last night Ambassador Meyer called on Count Lamsdorff at the chancellery and remained with the foreign minister for some time.

Whether this visit was upon the invitation of Count Lamsdorff or at the request of the ambassador cannot definitely be stated, but there is reason to believe that the visit was in obedience to instructions from Washington conveying a personal communication from the president to the emperor, tendering his good offices. The result was that today Mr. Meyer went to Tsarskoe-Selo in full uniform and was received in special audience by the emperor. Upon his return to St. Petersburg this afternoon Mr. Meyer hastened to the embassy whence he sent a long cipher dispatch to Washington. Half an hour later he was closeted with Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador. There are some collateral indications that the emperor's response was favorable. The sudden retirement of the French foreign minister, M. Delcasse, who was regarded as not only one of the strongest supporters of the dual alliance, but as one of the staunchest friends of Russia, was a great blow to Russia, and rendered President Roosevelt's friendly tender particularly opportune. Besides it is known the emperor has been strongly advised if he decided to open peace negotiations to do so through President Roosevelt.

LONDON, June 7.—Ambassador Reid visited Foreign Secretary Lansdowne at the foreign office this afternoon. Paul Cambon, the French ambassador, was also present. The nature of the interview was not announced.

KOGORO TAKAHIRA,
The Japanese Minister to the United States.

LEVY CONFERS WITH MINISTER TAKAHIRA

Pittsburgh Rabbi Is Aided in His Peace Efforts by Representative of the Mikado.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, president of the Pittsburgh Peace society, held a conference with Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese minister, here today with a view to learning the attitude of Japan toward peace proposals. But two points were developed in the meeting. First—That all proposals for peace must come from Russia. Second—That Manchuria must be restored to China. These statements were made by Minister Takahira as a part of the intention and policy of Japan.

"From Russia must come the first proposal for peace," said Mr. Takahira to Dr. Levy. "Japan has always been in favor of peace, but as Russia insisted upon war we had war. Now it devolves upon Russia to say the first word for peace."

For more than an hour the situation was discussed, and the Japanese minister promised Dr. Levy letters of introduction to the proper officials of Japan to be presented by him when he makes his journey to the Orient, sailing the latter part of this month. The Japanese minister promised that some time this fall he would visit Pittsburgh as the guest of Rabbi Levy. Before leaving for home this afternoon Dr. Levy called at the state department and secured his passport for his trip to Japan.

CANADIAN CRUISER CAUSES DEATH OF AMERICANS

Five Men Drown When Tug Is Overturned During a Chase on Lake Erie.

FORT STANLEY, ONT., June 7.—While the Dominion government cruiser Vigilant was cruising in the waters of Lake Erie this morning, Capt. Dunn sighted the American fishing tug Grace M. of Lorain, O., evidently engaged in fishing in Canadian waters. The Vigilant tried to overhaul her, but the tug continued to dodge around her bow and steer in very close proximity, despite the fact that the Vigilant had fired several shots across her bows. Finally the cruiser, being unable to avoid a collision, caught the tug toward the stern, completely turning her over and she sank very rapidly.

Capt. Galbraith, Engineer William Rullenor and D. Poppellwell, a fisherman, rose to the surface and were rescued by the boats of the Vigilant. The balance of the tug's crew of five, Martin Olesen, Cleveland, O., and William Anderson, Lorain, O., did not rise and their bodies have not been recovered. The American consul at St. Thomas is investigating.

Seven Drowned in Wreck.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, WIS., June 7.—A westbound passenger train on the Wisconsin Central railroad today plunged into Red Cedar creek from a steel bridge west of Colfax. Engineer George Phillips, Fireman Severns and five tramps are believed to be drowned.

Two Killed by Lightning.

BEDFORD, June 7.—(Special.)—Walter Granison, a negro, and Lawrence Trail, inmates of the county almshouse, were killed by lightning yesterday.

THE CZAR CABLES ENQUIST TO INTERN WARSHIPS AT MANILA

"Remain at Disposition of American Government," Run the Royal Instructions—Rojestvensky Sends Report from Japan's Capital.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MANILA, June 8.—Rear Admiral Enquist received at 1 o'clock this morning the following cable dispatch from St. Petersburg:

"Remain at Manila at the disposition of the American government. Effect repairs as fast as possible.

"NICHOLAI."

Gov. Gen. Wright has requested Rear Admiral Train to arrange for the disposition of the Russian warships and their officers and crews.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—The government has a telegraphic report from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, dated at Tokyo, June 6, in which the admiral states that at 1:30 o'clock on May 27 he engaged 12 large Japanese battleships and armored cruisers and 12 smaller cruisers.

At 2:20 it became necessary for him to shift his quarters and he went on the battleship Knias Souvaroff to another part of the vessel, and at 3:30, when the admiral lost consciousness owing to his wounds, it was found necessary to transfer him and his staff to the torpedo boat destroyer Bedovy, where already part of the crew of the battleship Osliabya, which sunk, had been taken. The supreme command, the admiral says, was then transferred to Rear Admiral Nebogatoff.

"The Bedovy became separated from the rest of the fleet during the night," Admiral Rojestvensky says. "In the morning we sighted the armored cruiser Dmitri Donskoi with two torpedo boats and transferred the Osliabya's crew to her. I was removed to the torpedo boat destroyer Bedovi which steamed ahead with the destroyer Crosny.

"On the evening of May 29 I learned the Bedovi had surrendered to the Japanese torpedo boats. The Bedovi arrived at Sasebo May 31. I have learned that Rear Admiral Nebogatoff is at Sasebo."

President Friendly Channel of Communication for Belligerents.

IS NOT A MEDIATOR

Japan's Minister, Mr. Takahira, Has Night Conference With Mr. Roosevelt.

HE CABLES HOME FOR TERMS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Preliminary peace negotiations between Russia and Japan are generally believed to be under way. It is conceded President Roosevelt will in all probability act not as a mediator, but as "the friendly channel of communication."

There is yet no official admission that Russia has accepted what Count Cassini, in his cablegram to Count Lamsdorff last week, described as "the offer of good will of the president," although instructions to the ambassador are believed to have reached here tonight in a long cablegram which was received at the Russian embassy quite late and was laid before the ambassador just before he retired.

All that can be authoritatively said regarding the cablegram is that it concerned Count Cassini's cablegram of last week. No appointment has yet been made for the ambassador to see the president, but by one close to Count Cassini, it was said tonight it is expected an appointment might be made within the next day or two.

Immediately upon his return to his legation tonight after a long conference with the president, Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, began the preparation of a dispatch to his government upon which he was occupied until quite late. For the first time since the annihilation of the Russian fleet, the minister did not feel at liberty to comment upon any phase of the situation.

Too Delicate to Discuss.

"The situation is too delicate in this moment for me to say any thing," he remarked. "When there is something definite, perhaps I may have something to say. But I do not expect anything definite for some days."

It can be stated that the president, through Mr. Takahira, is endeavoring to get some definite idea regarding Japan's peace terms. Mr. Takahira is giving him all the assistance he can, but the most he can do is to inform his government of the president's wishes and to emphasize his personal conviction that the president can be trusted absolutely to guard Japan's legitimate interests. Indeed, a fortunate phase of the present situation is that both Mr. Takahira and Count Cassini are personally convinced of the president's absolute impartiality and sincerity of purpose in the delicate undertaking which he has shouldered.

At the White House up to a late hour it was declared the important cablegram from Mr. Meyer had not yet reached the president. The president remained at the White House throughout the evening attending, after Mr. Takahira's call, to some work in his library. None of his secretaries was at the executive offices, and it was stated officially that if the ambassador's report of his audience with the czar should be received later tonight it would not be presented to the president until morning.

Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German ambassador, returned to Washington tonight. He will probably see the president tomorrow.

Sir Mortimer Durand the British ambassador, will be here several days longer. He was not summoned by the president nor has he yet seen the president. Both ambassadors are keeping their governments fully informed of the developments here, but little activity is yet reported in official advices from Europe.

The president had confided to an ambassador who called at the White House, that he expected Ambassador Meyer to be received at Tsarskoe-Selo today or tomorrow. The instructions to Mr. Meyer did not provide for a formal tender of good offices. While it is impossible to give their text, they may be correctly paraphrased in these words:

"Find out from the czar what we can do to assist an early peace."

Much was left to the tact and diplomatic discretion of Mr. Meyer as to the manner and words in which the friendly readiness of this country in the present moment should be made known to the czar. Care was also taken that Mr. Meyer's conference with the czar should not occur until Count Cassini's report had reached Tsarskoe-Selo.

It can be stated emphatically that in transmitting a faithful report of what occurred at the White House last Friday afternoon Count Cassini emphasized the sympathetic and friendly frankness with which the president, speaking informally and personally, expressed his strong desire for peace. It is generally realized here that the importance of that report can scarcely be overestimated.

To all of his callers this afternoon the ambassador, while admitting that "this moment was full of possibilities," had no news to impart, and this applied to his closest friends among his diplomatic confreres. Personally he was greatly worried by a cablegram from Paris telling of the illness of his daughter, the Countess Cassini, who is suffering with neuralgia.

Recall Takahira's Statement.

Whether upon receiving from Count Cassini an official statement that the czar wishes to know the mikado's peace terms the president will be able to obtain a statement on the subject from Japan, remains to be seen. Diplomats, however, recall the statement of Mr. Takahira some days ago that what Russia really wanted to know Japan's terms she could easily find them out without communicating directly with Tokyo. This is taken to mean that with such an official intimation in his possession the president can obtain from Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister at Washington, a general statement of Japan's terms for treaty-making in Russia.

Great Britain, as the ally of Japan, it is understood here, has felt unable to participate in the preliminary activities initiated by the president since the annihilation of the Russian fleet. Desirous as is the London government for peace, its officials point out that so far as actually can determine, Japan has not been unreasonable throughout the present struggle.

It is declared on good authority that thus far no circular note has been addressed to the American ambassadors abroad but that their instructions have been informal though dictated directly from the White House.

Mayor Des Planches, ambassador of Italy to the United States, had a conference with President Roosevelt this afternoon by appointment. It is known the situation in the far east was the principal topic of consideration.

With every ambassador representing an European sovereign, the president has now discussed the subject of peace between Russia and Japan, and there is permanent ground for the statement that the powers are acting in concert to bring about a cessation of hostilities in the orient. That Italy has thrown the weight of her influence for peace there can be no doubt.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING AGAINST DRAMATIC CRITIC

Sixteen Theatrical Managers Are Summoned Before a Magistrate in New York.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Summoned by Magistrate Pool, 16 members of the Theatrical Managers' association presented themselves in the West Side court today and gave bonds to insure their appearance for trial on a charge of conspiracy in having agreed to exclude James S. Metcalfe, a dramatic critic, from their playhouses.

Those who gave bond were Antonio Pastor, Oscar Hammerstein, Frank McKee, J. Wesley Rosenquist, E. A. Braden, Ale Hyman, Abraham Erlanger, E. D. Stair, Henry B. Harris, A. Z. Litchenstein, John D. Springer, Martin Dixon, George J. Kraus, James H. Curtin, Joseph K. Brooks and Percy Williams.

W. M. K. Olcott, counsel for the managers, apologized to Magistrate Pool for failing to have the managers appear earlier. "We intended no discourtesy," said Mr. Olcott, "for I had arranged with Mr. Jerome to have one manager appear constructively, and we were to make a test case. We shall have one manager refuse to furnish bail and you may issue a warrant for him. I have persuaded Charles L. Burnham, manager of Wallack's theater, to be the martyr, and I ask that you adjourn his case until tomorrow, when we shall be prepared to have a writ of habeas corpus sworn out so that his stay in jail may be brief."

This arrangement was agreed to. Mr. Metcalfe was not present.

MAY FLAY MR. CLEVELAND.

Welcoming Speech to Club Women Refers to Recent Article by the Ex-President.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 10.—(Special.) — Former President Grover Cleveland, who essayed a criticism of club women in a widely circulated periodical, is likely to be flayed by the council of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which began a conference here at the Chalfonte hotel today. This was indicated when Mrs. J. A. Newberry, president of the New Jersey federation, was addressing a welcome to the delegates at the opening session.

Mrs. Newberry alluded to the former president as the "great sage who lives in the shadow of a New Jersey university." Then she remarked: "The former president, it is clearly apparent, could profit by becoming better acquainted with the principles of the club women of the country." This was met with applause.

WAINWRIGHT IS LOSER IN FIGHT

CROWD FORCES ENTRANCE

Select Councilman Samuel J. Wainwright, president of the Americus club, gave this cry to 50 of his followers last night at the entrance to the McCandless school house, Eighteenth ward, in which his opponents were organizing the Republican ward committee and wresting the control of the political machinery of the ward from his hands.

Archibald Miller, the aged constable, guarded the door, having instructions to admit only Wainwright and those who held credentials as members of the ward committee. The constable attempted to block the entrance and drew his handybilly. The crowd obeyed Wainwright's command, and came on with a rush, carrying the double doors of the school house almost off their hinges.

Bedlam was let loose when the crowd gained the inside. It cheered for Wainwright again and again, but did not have the votes to retain Wainwright as chairman. The opposition claim to have had 16 of the 21 members of the committee who were elected at the primaries on last Friday, including Common Councilman A. M. Barr. Barr and Wainwright are members of the committee by virtue of holding office as councilmen. John Mellor of the opposition claimed Wainwright had only six members of the committee.

Bolted the Meeting.

When Wainwright and his followers entered the meeting a temporary organization had already been effected and credentials were being taken. Wainwright objected, claiming that this was not regular. An uproar followed, lasting 20 minutes. Wainwright was ruled out of order, the credentials of the committee received and later Wainwright and his crowd bolted the meeting.

A. A. Dinan was elected chairman of the ward committee; Henry Gram, vice chairman; John C. Pritchard, secretary, and Charles Elsholz, treasurer. A. A. Dinan, John Mellor and George Forsythe were elected members of the city committee, all anti-Wainwright men.

Wainwright held the office of chairman of the Eighteenth ward organization eight years. His defeat is the direct result of the city controllership election last February when, with Wainwright as chairman, John B. Larkin carried the ward and the entire Republican ward ticket was beaten. Wainwright's opponents declare this result was due to his inactivity and secret opposition to the ward ticket.

Both Sides Hold Caucus.

At the primaries to elect members of the ward committee on last Friday there was a fierce fight. Twenty-one members of the ward committee were elected and John Mellor of the opposition, stated last night that when Wainwright held a caucus of the ward committeemen in his office in Fourth avenue on Monday night only six members of the committee were present.

Mellor says the opposition had a caucus on Tuesday night at the Monongahela house and 16 members of the committee were present. He says these 16 members of the committee assembled last night at 8 o'clock in the McCandless schoolhouse, Eighteenth ward, and after waiting 20 minutes for Wainwright and his five members to put in an appearance, proceeded to effect a temporary organization.

In the absence of Chairman Wainwright, Vice Chairman John C. Pritchard called the meeting to order and Peter J. Donahue was made temporary chairman.

Other Committees Organize.

Other Republican ward committees organized as follows:

Second ward—James V. McMasters, chairman; Willie D. Stockdale, vice chairman; E. urer; J. Edwards, treasurer; Willis Stockdale, secretary; Willis Stockdale, James V. McMasters and T. J. Edwards, city committee.

Fifth ward—Andrew McGraw, chairman; Jerry M. Heasley vice chairman; P. J. Coonan, secretary; M. Bloncecore, treasurer. Andrew McGraw, Jerry M. Heasley and Meyer Rosenthal, city committee.

Sixth ward—L. B. Cook, chairman; William Shafer, vice chairman; G. H. Driver, secretary; Charles E. Flinn, D. C. McCutcheon and D. O Evans, city committee.

Seventh ward—A. H. C. Baston, chairman; Henry Amdursky, vice chairman; P. Sennemeyer, treasurer; Thomas Chalfant, secretary; John B. Moore, B. C. Barton and Henry Edlis, city committeemen.

Eleventh ward—T. D. Thomas, chairman; Haber McDowell, vice chairman; R. J. Irwin, secretary; Arch Meckrell, treasurer; A. R. Gridwood, M. J. McSteen and John A. Voskamp, city committee. The Voskamp faction objected to McSteen being placed on the city committee. They insinuated that he had strong citizens leaning. McSteen had an almost unanimous vote.

Twelfth ward—Gus Schwarzwalder, chairman; Peter Simon, vice chairman; George Plato, secretary; Rutherford Baker, treasurer; G. G. Schwarzwalder, Louis Baker and George Plato, city committee.

In the Big Fourteenth.

Mr. Fairbanks said tonight that he was not aware that any attempt had been made on his life. He treated the matter lightly.

Butler Well Comes in Dry.

BUTLER, June 7. — (Special.)—The theory that an extension of the oil sand, from which the McBride gusher is drawing, would be found on a 45-degree line northeast to southwest, was knocked into a "cocked hat" this afternoon by the Independent Gas Company's No. 1 Henry Schlagel, 2,000 feet southwest of the gusher, coming in dry.

Wife-Beater Whipped.

SAENGERFEST PICNIC PRODUCES EXCITEMENT

Crowds, Free Beer, Fight and Numerous Accidents Make the Day Lively.

Crowds and excitement, with several accidents, amusing and otherwise, marked the picnic at Ross Grove yesterday closing the Pittsburgh Saengerfest. Fully 5,000 people were on the grounds in the middle of the afternoon. They went in street cars, automobiles, wagons, carriages, buggies and on special trains, with as many as 20 coaches per train.

On the grounds most of the amusements were free, and supper and liquid refreshments were served in unlimited quantities without charge. During the day good order was maintained, but as the crowd started to leave trouble began. An attempt to eject an alleged disorderly woman brought many of her friends to her rescue, and James Lehay of Lawrenceville was seriously cut and bruised by being beaten with beer glasses.

From 7 to 8:30 p. m. the narrow strip of macadam on the Freeport road along the filtration plant site was jammed with an almost hopelessly confused mass of vehicles of every description. John Straka of Middle street, Allegheny, was driving rapidly toward Allegheny when the shaft of his rig broke and his horse ran into a rig in front. The horse of that rig ran away and Mrs. Katherine Snyder was thrown into the middle of a mud puddle, from which she arose indignant and dirty, but uninjured. Another rig, driven at a furious gait down the road, smashed a rear wheel off the carriage of Jacob Thomas of Sharpsburg, but the latter, with his vehicle dragging on the ground, continued his trip home amid the laughter of the crowd.

Previous to going to the picnic at 11 a. m. the saengerbund held a parade in Allegheny. It began to move shortly after 8 a. m. from the Allegheny Elks clubhouse, Cedar avenue, and marched to North avenue, to Irwin, to Ohio street, to Chestnut street, to Liberty street, where the marchers passed in review at the Fourth ward school.

Mayor William B. Hays of Pittsburgh and Mayor James G. Wyman of Allegheny rode together in a carriage, which was followed by carriages containing the officials of the North Side and councilmen. Congressman William H. Graham and Representative Richard Kopp were among those on horseback.

Charles F. Kirschler was chief marshal of the parade, H. W. Hespenheid marshal of the second division, and Herman Kappeler marshal of the third division. The Allegheny section of the automobile parade, which gave the orphans of the two cities an outing, fell in behind the parade and continued in line until Federal and Ohio streets were reached, when the automobiles turned off and crossed the Sixth street bridge to Pittsburgh.

W. U. P. STUDENT WINS A VALUABLE FIRST PRIZE

Arthur Wallace Calhoun of Allegheny Gets Dr. Butler's Check for $100.

A personal check for $100 signed by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, was delivered yesterday to Arthur Wallace Calhoun, an undergraduate in the Western University of Pennsylvania, who won the first prize in the Hon. John Barrett competition. Dr. Butler's check covered the amount won by the first prize-winner, and there was a joyful ratification in W. U. P. when Chancellor McCormick announced the glad tidings. Mr. Calhoun lives in Carroll street, Allegheny.

The competition found participants in all parts of the country. Mr. Barrett is the American minister to the republic of Panama, and last January offered three prizes of $100, $75 and $50 respectively to the students in American colleges of recognized standing who would write the three best papers on the "Relations of the United States with the Latin-American republics." Dr. Butler, Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews, and Dr. Houston Finley, president of the College of the City of New York, were named as judges. Essays from college students in all parts of the country were submitted, and Mr. Calhoun won the highest honors among hundreds of competitors.

HAL C. PHIPPS SUFFERS A BROKEN COLLAR BONE

NEW YORK, June 7.—In the presence of more than 900 spectators, including many of New York's four hundred, Hal C. Phipps, son of Henry C. Phipps, was hurled head first from his polo pony today in the second flat race at Mineola, L. I., held under the auspices of the Ladies Kennel club of America. Young Phipps landed on his head and shoulders. The soft condition of the track, which was responsible for the accident, was also the means of saving Mr. Phipps' life.

The onlookers at first believed he had been killed and a great cry of horror went up. An examination showed that a broken collar bone was the only injury, beyond sundry bruises. Mr. Phipps rode his pony, Gold Ring, on which he has been successful in many polo matches. The three other ponies started in a bunch. Mr. Phipps was in the rear. He broke through and was leading at the turn when his pony suddenly slipped in the mud and went down. Mr. Phipps went over his head and the pony rolled over, jumped to its feet and was off after the others. Gold Ring ended by coming home neck and neck with Dixie, the winner of the race.

ATTACK ON ROCKEFELLER.

Resolution in His Defense Is Overwhelmingly Defeated at Baptist Association Meeting.

SOUTH BEND, IND., June 7.—(Special.)—There was much suppressed excitement and no little ill feeling in the meeting of the Northern Indiana Baptist association at South Bend today over a resolution deprecating the many criticisms of Rockefeller and declaring that his conduct was in no sense out of line with morality.

The Rev. C. R. Parker of Laporte and a dozen other ministers attacked the resolution bitterly, declaring that the church of God ought never to condone wrong, that rottenness is rottenness and should be denounced as such. The resolution was overwhelmingly defeated.

LIGHTNING STRIKES BAPTIST CONFERENCE

In the conference postoffice J. M. Shively of Cerro Gordo, Ill., general secretary of the conference, was knocked senseless by the shock.

WEAVER PURGES POLICE FORCE

ATTACKS PADDED LIST EVIL

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 7.

Mayor Weaver tonight dismissed 11 men from the police force for dereliction of duty. These men had been tried and found guilty before the dismissal of David J. Smyth as director of department of public safety. Mr. Smyth sentenced each one of them to a fine of 100 days' pay. The mayor, however, decided that the punishment was not severe enough.

City Treasurer Shuch issued a statement tonight showing that there are $18,684,000 on deposit at two per cent in 37 banks and 41 trust companies in this city. This statement was issued because Mayor Weaver yesterday sent a letter to all banks and trust companies in the city in which he asked the amount of city money deposited in each, and the rate of interest it was drawing.

Mayor Weaver today promulgated an order which will determine whether the police and firemen have been parties to alleged fraudulent padding of the assessors' lists. City officials are required to report by Saturday all men, voters, registered from their residences, and the order further prohibits them from keeping lodging or boarding houses. The order is:

"The time fixed by law having arrived for the placing by the assessors of registry lists at the polling places in the city of Philadelphia, you are directed to require of each employe under you that he examine the list in his division, and that he report to you on or before Saturday next, how many persons are registered from the house in which he resides, and how many of those so registered reside at his place of residence.

"You are further directed to inform all employes under you that a large number of cases have been brought to the attention of this department wherein numbers of people have been registered from the house of employes of your bureau; that the director of the department of public safety is of the opinion that the keeping of lodging or boarding houses with the cares which it entails, is incompatible with the requirements of the service in which your employes are engaged. The city is entitled to their entire time and attention, and cannot spare them for the prosecution of so important a business as the keeping of a large boarding house."

This is understood to refer particularly to the police and fire bureaus. The director has received complete reports regarding the number of men registered from the homes of police and firemen, and it is believed he intends to remove all men whose records in this respect are not clean.

A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and as such, a dominant factor in local and state politics, had a chat with Mayor Weaver this morning. W. A. Patton, Mr. Cassatt's chief assistant, was present at the conference. When Mr. Cassatt emerged from the mayor's office he was asked to state what business had called him there. He declared, with apparent sincerity, that his errand was to discuss business of his corporation with Mr. Weaver.

"I saw the mayor in reference to some additions and extensions the Pennsylvania railroad desires to make in West Philadelphia," said Mr. Cassatt. "There is an ordinance now under consideration in which we are interested, providing for additional trackage, etc., in that section."

This was all Mr. Cassatt would say beyond asserting that the parkway question had not been touched upon.

It seems to be Mayor Weaver's policy to keep the anvil hot, and he is succeeding in doing so.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

THOMPSON TO REMAIN AS HEAD OF REPUBLIC

Denies He Will Succeed Col. French, Who Declares His Future Depends on Removal.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SHARON, June 7.—Alexis W. Thompson, while in this city today, denied he is to resign from the presidency of the Republic Iron and Steel Company. Mr. Thompson said there was no friction between himself and Col. C. W. French, chairman of the executive board. Mr. Thompson said he would not succeed French.

Col. French, who was also here, stated that he had no intention of giving up his office, unless the main offices of the company were removed from Chicago to Youngstown, and nothing definite in that regard has been decided upon. Asked regarding the intention of the Republic to pay dividends on the preferred stock, Colonel French said that he had always advocated the payment of dividends to the stockholders and for that reason he believed some of the directors of the company would probably like to have him ousted. He said he was working in the interest of both the stockholders and the company.

Who will succeed Peter L. Kimberly as director of the company neither would say. A meeting will be held in August at which time Mr. Kimberly's successor will be chosen. Mr. French also said that the talk of the reorganization of the company is all newspaper gossip.

Proposition Made Amalgamated.

DETROIT, June 7.—Representatives of the Republic Iron and Steel Company this afternoon submitted a counter proposition, kept a secret, at the conference with the wage committee from the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. The latter yesterday had asked for an increase of 2½ per cent for puddlers and 13 per cent for finishers.

ADMITS STEALING $46,000.

Accountant of the Smithsonian Institution Is Arrested on Charge of Embezzlement.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—William W. Karr, the accountant of the Smithsonian institution and disbursing agent for the government bureaus under it, was arrested here today on the charge of embezzlement, which, according to his own confession, aggregates $46,000. His stealings, he confessed, have been general for 15 years. Karr is 50 years of age.

The embezzlement was accomplished by making use of checks sent to the Smithsonian institution in payment of miscellaneous transactions. Efforts will be made to secure his release on bond. He has a wife and four children.

JESSEN WAS IGNORANT OF ROJESTVENSKY'S PLAN

VLADIVOSTOK, June 7.—The failure of the Vladivostok squadron to put to sea and effect a diversion in favor of Admiral Rojestvensky at the time of the recent battle, is explained to have been due to the utter absence of knowledge on the part of Rear Admiral Jessen as to whether Rojestvensky intended to circle Japan or attempt to force a passage through the straits of Korea. Jessen at no time was informed of the Russian commander's plans and was unable to co-operate with him.

STOP FURNITURE MEN AND RECOVER A WATCH

After two men in charge of a furniture wagon had delivered a couch to the home of Mrs. John Nelson, Elmire and Ormond streets, Swissvale, yesterday, Mrs. Nelson missed a gold watch valued at $50. She telephoned Superintendent McQuaid to send a detective to meet the wagon on its return journey to the city. A detective arrested the men at Oakland and on searching them found the watch, which Mrs. Nelson was on the spot to identify. The employer discharged the men, who were liberated.

WILL BE FREE OR FIGHT

slightest evidence of excitement, the people seeming to realise the responsibility placed upon them.

It has been arranged that the storthing will send a deputation to convey the address adopted by it to the king. This address, after quoting the resolutions adopted by the storthing, says:

The course of developments which have moved more powerful than the desire of will of individuals has led to this result. The union entered upon in 1814 has from the first hour been differently interpreted by the two nations, both with regard to its spirit and letter. Efforts have been made on the Swedish side to extend the union, and on the Norwegian side to confine it to the limit laid down by the act of union, and otherwise to assert the independent power of both states in all matters not defined in that act as coming under the union.

Has Caused Much Friction.

The difference of principle in the interpretation of the character of the union has provoked much misunderstanding between the two peoples and has caused much friction in the interpretation, which during the recent negotiations between the two countries has been laid down by Sweden as against Norway. The Norwegian people were bound to perceive the injury to their constitutional rights, their independence and their national honor. The union was justified so long as it could contribute to the welfare and happiness of both people, while maintaining their independence as separate states. But always the union never stands for us Norwegians our Norwegian fatherland and for the Swedes their Swedish fatherland, while more valuable than the political union are the feelings of solidarity and voluntary cohesion of both peoples. The union has become a danger to this feeling of solidarity of the Norwegian and Swedish peoples, which should secure the happiness of both nations and constitute their strength abroad. If the union is now severed the Norwegian people have no better wish than to live in good harmony with all and not least with the people of Sweden and the dynasty under the direction of which our country, despite many and bitter disputes affecting the union has attained such important intellectual and material development.

Not Bitter Toward Swedes.

As evidence of the fact that the work and struggle of the Norwegian people for the full independence of the fatherland has not been founded on any ill-feeling toward the royal house or the Swedish people and has not left behind any bitterness toward either of these, the storthing respectfully solicits your majesty's co-operation in that end that a prince of your majesty's house may be permitted, while relinquishing his right of succession to the throne of Sweden, to accept election as king of Norway. The day on which the Norwegian people elect their own king to ascend the ancient throne of Norway will open up an era of more tranquil conditions in Norway, of good and cordial relations with the Swedish people and of peace secured and loyal cooperation in the north for the protection of the culture of the people and their freedom and independence. Convinced of this, the storthing ventures to express the confident hope that what has now been done will turn out to be for the good of all as well as of your majesty, for whose person the Norwegian people will retain their high respect and devotion.

M. Arctander will be Norway's first foreign minister. He is now chief of the department of commerce, navigation and industry. It is learned that Crown Prince Gustave will return immediately from Berlin. It is understood that an extraordinary session of the Swedish Riksdag will be called June 26, if not earlier, as the result of today's action of the storthing.

Demonstration of Loyalty.

STOCKHOLM, June 7.—The Norwegian coup d'etat was answered here tonight by a great patriotic demonstration of loyalty to and sympathy with King Oscar. A great procession, accompanied by bands, went to Rosendal Castle, where the bands played the national anthem. In a few minutes the king and other members of the royal family appeared on a balcony of the castle and were enthusiastically cheered by the demonstrators, while a number of ladies advanced from the crowd and presented the king with a bouquet. Though greatly excited over the situation, the populace remains outwardly calm.

King Oscar held a council this evening at which the situation was considered. He replied as follows to the storthing:

"Having read the communication of the council of state, and heard the unanimously decided protest against the method and action of the government."

Newspapers of Stockholm, commenting on the action of the Norwegian Storthing, take an extremely serious view of the crisis. The Nya Dagliet Allehanda says:

The Norwegian government has exceeded all limits, but undoubtedly it acted according to its conviction that it was for the country's welfare and no Swedish party or politician will attempt to persuade or to compel Norway to maintain a union which had become a burden. The Swedish diet will meet in extraordinary session in a fortnight and will speak to the Swedish people. Meanwhile the king of the union speaks in the name of the union and he has already protested against the revolution which is contemplated in his Norwegian kingdom.

The Dagbald says:

Have Unmasked Themselves.

The revolutionists have now unmasked themselves and have trampled upon the union and upon their oath of allegiance to the king. As soon as possible all Norwegians employed in our diplomatic service must be removed. Sweden cannot be represented by men belonging to a country which organizes a revolution, dethrones its king and breaks all ties of union.

COPENHAGEN, June 7.—The announcement that the Storthing by a unanimous vote had declared that it could no longer acknowledge King Oscar as king of Norway was received here, not with surprise, but with the same spirit of approval and determination that prevailed in Christiania.

Swedish officials here say it is absolutely certain Sweden will not use force against Norway and that every effort will be made to avoid a resort to arms. The Norwegians take the same position, but it is openly stated that should Sweden choose a course, the Norwegians will not shirk the issue.

Fridjof Nansen, the Arctic explorer, who some time ago entered actively into Norwegian politics, said today he desired no official post in the new government. It is understood, however, that Nansen may be appointed a special envoy to the foreign powers in order to secure their recognition of Norway's new status. The explorer said:

No doubt there are many difficulties ahead of Norway and we are prepared for opposition abroad. In fact we expect the worst and will not be surprised at whatever happens. Personally, I have only good things to say of King Oscar and will continue to praise his intelligence and his many excellent qualities. There is no doubt, however, that he himself suspended his rights as king of Norway.

KING OSCAR REFUSES CROWN FOR HIS SON

Norway Takes Advantage of Fact That Russia Is Occupied in the Far East.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, June 8.—The Stockholm correspondent of the Standard says King Oscar has refused the Norwegian crown for his son. The revolution, although anticipated and peacefully effected, has come upon Europe with unexpected suddenness and the question is asked with some anxiety whether it will mean international complications. Had Russia not been involved in a difficult war in the far east it is doubtful whether Norway would have taken the present momentous step, which is not likely to be regarded with approval by European powers.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—The struggle between Sweden and Norway and the dissolution of the union, one of the principal objects of which was the making of common cause against Muscovite influence, is followed with close attention in Russia. Russia has steadily tried to weaken Sweden and had been Russianizing the border with the object of trying to secure an ice-free port on the Norwegian coast.

FRANCE SHOULD WEAKEN THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE

Semi-Official Temps So Says of Nation's Future Policy Under Premier Rouvier.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, June 7.—Premier Rouvier took charge of the foreign office today. The semi-official Temps this evening gives conservative utterance of the misgivings concerning foreign politics involved in the cabinet change, saying:

"Today, as yesterday, France can and should preserve the Russian alliance, which is a political expression of geographical necessity. Equally we should strengthen our relations with Italy and thus weaken the offensive character of the triple alliance. We should continue to support the cordial understanding with Spain and should affirm that our friendly relations with Great Britain permit our interests to remain in contact without being in contact."

BERLIN, June 8.—The Post, which is often used by the foreign office for giving the government view of foreign political questions, rejects the view expressed in certain Paris newspapers that Mr. Delcasse was sacrificed to Germany's policy and asserts that the French minister fell because he had brought France into an impossible situation, which was made clear through the success of the German mission to Morocco.

BONAPARTE WILL LEAD MARYLAND REPUBLICANS

The State Central Committee Accepts His Selection of the Party Issue.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, June 7.—Charles J. Bonaparte, who is soon to become secretary of the navy, became today the leader of the Republican organization in this state. He attended for the first time in his life the meeting of the Republican state central committee, and received an ovation.

Mr. Bonaparte's selection of the party issue—disfranchisement of the negro in Maryland—was accepted as the party slogan. The Democrats propose a disfranchisement amendment to the state constitution which contains the "grandfather" and "ability to read the constitution" clauses. Mr. Bonaparte said:

"The Republican party has ever been with Voltaire, that 'a good citizen needs no grandfather.' If a citizen be shown by experience unfit to vote wisely and righteously, let him be denied the suffrage because of this individual unfitness, not because of his race or color, or birthplace, nor because his grandfather was this or was not that. Education does not qualify, and ignorance, however gross, does not disqualify for the suffrage."

EQUITABLE TO BE REFORMED

Changes Include a New Chairman and Cutting Down of Salaries.

MORE RESIGNATIONS

TARBELL IS TO BE RETIRED

NEW YORK, June 7.—Resolutions suggesting radical reforms in the management of the Equitable Life Assurance society were adopted at today's meeting of the directors. These affect all the high officials, and presage a sweeping curtailment of the society's general expenses. The resolutions also imply many important changes in the financial policy of the society.

Last week's nominating committee of seven, which had been reduced to two by reason of the resignations of D. O. Mills, John A. Stewart, A. J. Cassatt, T. Jefferson Coolidge and Robert T. Lincoln, was reconstructed as follows: August Belmont, Louis Fitzgerald, Chauncey M. Depew of New York, James B. Forgan of Chicago and David H. Moffatt of Denver.

This committee was requested to submit a candidate for chairman of the board at an adjourned meeting of the directors called for Friday afternoon next. Should the committee fail to choose a chairman, members of the directorate will then be asked to submit names of candidates.

The statement comes from a high authority that no names were "formally presented" at today's meeting, although it was not denied that there was informal talk on this point, and that it centered around two men of national prominence. One of these has for weeks been referred to as in many respects the most eligible and satisfactory to all interests. It was declared nothing was said with regard to the manner in which Vice President Hyde is to "divest" himself of his stock control.

Hyde Has Majority.

Today's session was attended by 28 of the remaining 88 directors, the resignations of Joseph T. Low and Marvin Hughitt, the latter of Chicago, having been submitted during the meeting, making a total of 12 resignations since last Friday. A majority of those present have from the outset been on the side of Vice President Hyde. Among the so-called neutrals, or conservatives, present were Brayton Ives, the only remaining member of the defeated Frick committee, and Charles Stewart Smith.

From all accounts there was complete harmony of action between the Alexander and Hyde forces, all the resolutions being unanimously adopted. It was again denied however, that any "coalition" of these factions had been effected.

The essential features of the formal statement issued at the adjournemnt follow:

"A resolution was passed requiring the committee to report their nomination for chairman of the board of directors at an adjourned meeting to be held at 1 o'clock next Friday, and it was resolved that if the nominating committee failed to make such nomination, nominations would be invited from members of the board at that meeting.

Will Reorganize.

"Further resolutions were passed for the reorganization of the executive committee, with the president, vice president (Hyde) and comptroller as ex officio members, and four directors who are not officers.

"The resolution was passed that the salaries of the executive officers should be reduced to correspond with those paid by other insurance, banking and trust companies, the amounts to be hereafter determined upon. A further resolution was passed to reduce the general expense of the society.

"It was also resolved that no advances to agents, or other agency expenditures should be made without the approval of the executive committee, also that all investments made by the executive committee be subject to the approval of the board, and that amounts of deposits uniformly carried in banks and trust companies should be reduced to working balances, and the residue invested in approved securities."

The resolution calling for the reorganization of the executive committee means the retirement therefrom of Messrs. Tarbell, Wilson and McIntyre, the second, third and fourth vice presidents, respectively. It is altogether likely that other members of the committee will retire, including William A. Wheelock, who has long been seriously ill, and several members now closely identified with financial institutions with which the Equitable society has close relations.

Directors Who Attended.

The official list of directors at today's meeting follows: J. W. Alexander, Chauncey M. Depew, H. C. Deming, George H. Squire, Thomas D. Jordan, Charles S. Smith, Valentine P. Snyder, Alvin W. Krech, William Alexander, John J. McCook, C. Ledyard Blair, Brayton Ives, James H. Hyde, Gage E. Tarbell, C. B. Alexander, M. Hartley Dodge, J. F. De Navarro, Bradish Johnson, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, August Belmont, H. H. Winthrop, George J. Gould, Thomas T. Eckert, William H. McIntyre, H. M. Alexander, David H. Moffat, George T. Wilson and Joseph T. Low. Mr. Low presented his resignation in person, advancing ill-health as the chief reason. Mr. Hughitt telegraphed his resignation.

Superintendent Hendricks continued his investigation of Equitable officers and directors today, those before him including Vice President Wilson and Senator Depew. Mr. Hendricks hopes to submit his report to Gov. Higgins by the middle of next week.

Frick Reforms Are Necessary.

Mr. Smith made a speech during the meeting in which he said the resignations of directors was a serious blow to the society. In offering his resolution he said the reforms suggested by the Frick committee had to be carried out.

Once more the managing agents of the society have taken a hand in the affairs of their employers and 12 of the most successful policy writers in the country have been sent to this city to help put through a plan which members of the National Agents' association believe will meet the present crisis in the board of directors. This plan is to fill the 12 vacancies in the board with as many merchants and business men, selected from the largest cities in the country. The agents insist if this can be accomplished it will go far toward restoring public confidence in the Equitable.

The appointment of the committee to choose a chairman of the board gave Mr. Brayton Ives an opportunity to free his mind of that which was uppermost, and to define his position. Mr. Ives said in effect:

Ives Defends Frick Report.

"I did not resign from the board because, although a member of the Frick committee, I did not desire to have the impression go forth that there was anything that resembled a conspiracy. Every man resigned by his own volition and for his own personal reasons. Until the present I have decided to remain. I desire to tell you gentlemen here today that so far as the report made by the Frick committee is concerned it was honest and fearless, and as time goes on you will learn that the truth of that report in every particular will be proven.

"There were honest differences between the members of the Frick committee, but they were such differences as could exist between scrupulously conscientious men trying to do their duty. The report was signed by every member of the committee, which of itself is evidence that we were convinced of its honesty. Now you are contemplating the selection of a chairman of the board. It is not necessary that either Mr. Alexander or Mr. Hyde should admit of the truth of the charges in the Frick committee's report, but it is essential that both of those gentlemen place their resignations in the hands of this board, the resignations to be accepted when the directors have selected their successors.

"No man will accept the responsible position that is to be offered to him as long as Mr. Alexander and Mr. Hyde retain their respective offices, and in view further of the report of the superintendent of insurance, which is soon to be made public. With the contents of that report in doubt, and with Mr. Alexander and Mr. Hyde still at the Equitable's head, what man will take hold of the society?"

Joseph T. Low also offered a resolution asking Messrs. Alexander and Hyde to resign. Charles Stewart Smith seconded the motion, which was lost because United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew, who was in the chair, ruled that Mr. Low's resolution was out of order and thus prevented any vote being taken.

ADOPT MUTUALIZATION PLAN.

New York Life Insurance Company Will Change Form of Proxy Signed by Policy-Holders.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Special.)—The New York Life Insurance Company, in deference to the public demand for complete mutualization and control by policyholders of insurance companies, has voluntarily consented to change the form of proxy usually signed by policy-holders in the name of officials of the company.

Hereafter the proxy to vote will be given by the policy-holder to a committee of three directors of the company, selected from the four-year term class, and this committee will be changed periodically. No director elected for a term of one year or two years will be able to serve on the proxy committee.

HERRICK DOESN'T WANT IT.

Informs Equitable Directors He Would Not Consider Offer to Chairmanship If Made to Him.

COLUMBUS, O., June 7.—(Special.)—Gov. Myron T. Herrick said this evening:

"I have not been tendered the position of chairmanship of the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society. It is true I was asked whether, if such an offer were made to me, I would accept, but my reply was that, owing to the circumstances under which I am placed in Ohio, having but recently been renominated, I could not consider such an offer."

Judge Dean Favored Stewart.

BLAIRSVILLE, June 7.—(Special.)—It is known here that the late Justice John Dean desired the appointment of Judge John Stewart to the supreme bench and that other members of the court had frequently expressed a preference for the Frankian county jurist. News of the likelihood of his appointment to the vacant justiceship was received here with great interest.

Notwithstanding we are very busy in our awning workshop, we can promise you prompt service. Prices and estimates furnished on application.

And Now We'll Talk of Bathing Suits.

Hot weather, such as has come to us suddenly, naturally turns our thoughts towards the seashore. Wherever you have selected to go, also select your bathing suit and take it along. It's bad policy to depend upon bathhouses for furnishing suits. We are quite sure more bathing suits will be sold this season than ever before, and we've prepared for an increased demand. Not only have we bathing suits, but we have all the requisites that go along with them.

Bathing Suits for Women—

Of course there are bathing suits and beach suits—some call the latter promenade suits. Both kinds are ready. Some of the styles are in shirtwaist effect with high neck and pleated waists, some have short sleeves. The newer suits are embroidered. The skirts are gored this year and they are very pretty. You will find all the popular combinations of color.

Mohair Bathing Suits from $4.75 up to $18.00.

Silk Bathing Suits at $18.00.

At the Toilet Section, Main Aisle, West, women will find all these requisites:

Brass Beds Are the Most Desirable.

We have such a fine business in brass beds, as well as enameled iron beds, that we don't get to tell you of them quite as often as we should like. As a matter of fact, on account of reordering, we are receiving brass beds every little while.

The brass bed, together with best box spring and best hair mattress, is a combination that anyone should be proud to own. Really it is better to pay a little more money and have something that will last practically a lifetime than to be buying a new bed and new mattress and new spring every four or five years.

Our line of brass beds come from makers who thoroughly understand the matter of putting together such beds. They are not cheaply gotten up for display, but are built along lines of practicability. We have them at $25.00, $30.00, $36.00, $40.00 and on to $75.00, in all sizes.

Enameled iron beds, mounted with brass trimmings, all sizes, at $6.50, $7.00, $7.50 and up to $16.00.

Now about mattresses—we can sell you a good mattress for $4.00, for $5.00, $6.75 and on up to $9.00, where the prices for felt mattresses begin; then the next price is $11.00 and on to $16.00, and of this $16.00 felt mattress we want to go into a little detail:

Its name is the Joseph Horne Felt Mattress, and beyond question it is the best felt mattress ever offered to housekeepers for $5.00 more. We make it in our own mattress factory, and we know everything that enters into its composition. None but the best materials are used—the best cotton, the best ticking. The cotton is inserted on the layer principle, from which the mattress takes its name of felt. We make it up in any size desired, and we also have ready-made mattresses in all sizes. This $16.00 mattress is for a full-sized bed.

While we are enthusiastic over our felt mattress, we must admit that the best mattress to have, by all odds, is the one made of hair. We make several different grades of hair mattresses at $20.00, $25.00 and up to $45.00, this last being the finest mattress that can be built of hair.

Of the numerous kinds of bed springs, the most satisfactory is the box spring. We make our own box springs, and have different grades, at $16.00 and $23.00.

We also have an excellent box spring, made by a noted manufacturer of beds, which is called the De Luxe. It is a fine spring in every way and sells for $11.50.

The Only Skirt Gauge, 25c.

That's not merely an introductory head—it's name is The Only Skirt Gauge, and it is the only gauge of any account.

Women have taken to it cordially, so much so that this is a big shipment on a hurry-up reorder.

Its great point is in its accurate method of lengthening a skirt properly. At the Notion Counter.

New Summer Neckwear for Women.

We might say neckwear for women to use during warm weather—gauzy stuff in the very latest approved styles.

New Val. lace and mull Yokes, something now very fashionable, 50c each and up to $4.50.

Buster Brown Collars of English eyelet lace and linen, made to sell for $1.00, special at 25c and 50c each.

Linen, lace and soft mull stocks, many handsome designs that sold for $1.00, special at 50c each.

On Special Table—

50c mull chemisettes, trimmed with lace or embroidery, 25c.

50c tailor-made linen stocks, 25c.

50c lace and mull stocks, 25c.

50c embroidery or lace sets, 25c.

50c boxes of ruching, 6 neck lengths, 25c.

New Veils for Summer.

Women who enjoy wearing veils during hot weather are invited to see these new things at the veiling counter.

New handkerchief auto veils, made of soft crepe chiffon, the very latest fad for motoring, in all shades, at $1.50 each.

Plain and spotted tuxedo veiling, brown, navy, black, white, magpie, jackdaw, worth 25c, 35c, 50c, at the veiling counter for 15c a yard.

Everyday Demonstrations in West Basement.

There is always some particular thing calculated to make easy times in the house going on in west basement, and generally there are a half dozen or more. At the present time we choose to mention the following, in which every housewife will be interested:

TILELIKE, the perfect enameling varnish, of which we have sold thousands of cans in the last three months. It is simply a handy article for touching up, at any moment you feel like it, any sort of woodwork, ironwork, etc. Any color that you think of can be found in our Tilelike Department. It is quite an inexpensive article.

AQUARIUS FILTER, a filter that filters. It is not a cheap affair; on the contrary, it will cost you $7.50, but after you have used it for a while you will admit that you never spent $7.50 for an article that gave you more satisfaction. It is not a showy article, and isn't intended to be brightened up every day. You simply attach it to the faucet, and every bit of water you draw thereafter comes out as sparkling as the water in a Spring.

POWER WASHING MACHINE, a washing machine in which you can put the clothes and go about your housework, after a while return to the machine, find the clothes washed and, with some rinsing, ready to hang. The machine is run by motor power, and that power is furnished by the water from the laundry. The only way to understand it is to see the machine work. Any time it suits your convenience it will be put in operation.

HOW TO EAT CANNED SALMON—The Alaska Packers' association, the largest salmon packing concern in the world, have issued a very beautiful colored edition of a cook book, containing different recipes for using canned salmon. As an exchange of courtesies for the privilege of demonstrating the different ways of preparing canned salmon, they are presenting to everyone who calls at the Housefurnishing Department, West basement, a copy of this valuable book, free.

Gen. Trepoff, who has practically been made dictator in Russia, avers that education of the poor causes revolutionary disturbances, and he wants the university rates made high enough to prevent general education. Trepoff is right, and goes to the root of the matter. Education is the implacable foe of absolutism and injustice. Russia must choose between them. It will fare better if it chooses education and accepts liberalism.

An Associated Press correspondent was permitted to examine the Orel at Sasebo. His account of its condition shows its injuries to have been inflicted exclusively by gun fire. Its heavy armor was not penetrated, but all of its unprotected parts were badly wrecked. The lesson favors the construction of armored vessels carrying heavy armament in good condition, served by good gunners who cannot be thrown into panic. Any nation can get the vessels built—comparatively few have the right kind of men.

Already the cry is raised that election of Col. Thomas B. Davis to congress in the Second West Virginia district is the forerunner of Democratic success in the congressional elections next year. There is no truth in it. Democratic success in the Second West Virginia district last Tuesday was due wholly to local causes, not to any change in political sentiment. When the district retired William L. Wilson, author of the free trade bill of 1894, and elected Alston G. Dayton, Republican, it was of the same opinion on national politics as now. Purely local considerations have given a Democratic successor to Judge Dayton.

It is an odd coincidence that Robert F. Glenn, who has just been named by Venango county Democrats for judge of the county court, sat in the legislature of 1887 as the colleague of his opponent, Judge George S. Criswell. Mr. Glenn in accepting the Democratic nomination made a bid for a Prohibition indorsement, but whether he gets it or not he can hardly overcome the popularity of Judge Criswell, due to universal recognition of his impartiality, ability and courage during the 10 years he has presided over the Venango court. Judge Criswell is a Republican, but as judge he has known no party, no faction, no personality. He has been just.

At the meeting of the Equitable board of directors yesterday two more resignations were received, making a total of 12 since the report of the Frick committee was turned down. By these resignations the committee of seven, which was to select a new chairman for the board, was reduced to two, and it had to be reconstructed. Some radical work of reorganization was decided upon, but all beside the main point of the Hyde control. To sweeten that the reliance is upon finding some highly respectable figurehead. The hope of the policy-holders has now turned to Supt. Hendricks. It is announced that he expects to submit his report to Gov. Higgins next week.

Much public interest attaches to the 18-hour service between New York and Chicago to be inaugurated next Sunday. In some quarters the necessary speed is regarded as hazardous. It must be remembered, however, the Pennsylvania railroad has spent millions of dollars on improvements tending to make the run safe. The line has been shortened and straightened and the average speed will be but 51 miles an hour. On no part of the system will it approach the record runs under normal conditions. Very high speed will be required only when the trains are delayed and lost time must be recovered. If it is dangerous, in any case, the public must bear a share of the responsibility, for it demands the speed because time is money.

Smarting under censure upon his conduct in going about the country making a show of himself in the Boer war exhibition, Gen. Cronje has made a warm reply, in which he gives an excuse which will strongly appeal to public sympathy. In effect he says that he is poor and needs the money. Besides, he thinks that the representation of the struggle of a brave people for their liberty will help perpetuate the memory of their deeds. It is a strong defense, but it is a shame that he should be reduced to such straits.

A Peace Overture.

The czar has at last faced the inevitable and has permitted the opening of peace negotiations. After a meeting of the council of ministers instructions were telegraphed to the Russian ambassadors at Washington and Paris to the effect that Russia is desirous of learning Japan's peace conditions. This is only a tentative step and does not commit Russia to the adoption of a peace policy, but it is at least a step in that direction and shows that the czar has abandoned his attitude of stubborn determination.

The Washington application indicates the effect of President Roosevelt's initiative, and although France as Russia's ally is simultaneously consulted, it is probable that Washington will be the important center. It is generally recognized by the powers that the United States occupies a position of such impartiality and distinctiveness that its mediation will be more effective than that of any other power. Hence President Roosevelt's lead has met with strong international support. The views of our own and of other governments have been utilized by Count Lamsdorff and some of his ministerial colleagues to influence the czar, and the happy result is to be largely credited to President Roosevelt's timely action.

If Japan makes demands which the neutral powers consider exorbitant Russia will obtain a moral support which has hitherto been lacking. Nothing is really known as to the nature of those demands, for it is understood that they have not even been communicated to Japan's own diplomatic representatives. Judgment as to the prospects must be reserved until this point is cleared up, but at all the European chancelleries hopeful views are now entertained.

Norway's Independence.

As a result of the irreconcilable dispute with Sweden over the demand for a separate consular service, the Norwegian storthing has taken the plunge at last and has declared the dissolution of the union between Norway and Sweden, which has existed since 1814. It has been known that Sweden would make no attempt to preserve the union by force, but would let Norway have its way and bear the consequences. So now there is another independent state in Europe.

While willingness has been expressed to accept a royal prince of Sweden as nominal ruler, Norway will be a republic in fact if not in name. The Norwegians possess in full measure those sober virtues which support republican institutions, and if left to work out their destiny themselves their competency to manage their own affairs cannot be questioned. But the same might be said of Finland, once like Norway, a dependency of Sweden, but now a province of Russia. The position of a small state in Europe is a precarious one, and considering what an attraction Norway's maritime position will be to both Russia and Germany, her chances for permanent independence must be said to depend upon the combinations of international politics. The Norwegian publicists are under no illusions in this matter, but they argue with great force that the Swedish connection would be no real protection against such perils if they actually develop. They are ready to accept their risks, and in this country at any rate the new independent state will receive a hearty welcome into the family of nations with sincere good wishes for its success and prosperity.

The Kaiser Is Master.

Efforts have been made both by France and Germany to interest our government in the Moroccan question, but although the United States may be represented in the international conference which is being talked of, we have too little directly at stake in the matter to feel any great concern in the settlement, provided our treaty rights which guarantee to us the open door are respected. Our trade with Morocco is not large enough to figure as a distinct item in the government reports, and outside of British Africa our exports to that entire continent amount to only a few millions.

The almost feverish state of European interest in the Moroccan question is due not so much to its direct importance, but to the evidence it has elicited as to the crisis in international politics produced by the collapse of Russian power. Morocco is a fertile country, which would flourish if brought under orderly government, but under native authority it has drifted into a state of anarchy. France holds all the surrounding country and under arrangement with England undertook the task of restoring order. M. Delcasse identified himself with this policy, which has been thwarted by the interference of the German emperor. Acting under German influence the sultan receded from his previous pledges, rejected the French program of reform and proposed an international conference to meet at Tangier to discuss the subject. This placed France in the dilemma of either backing down or openly antagonizing Germany. The result has been the abandonment of M. Delcasse's policy and his resignation.

The incident has badly jarred the Anglo-French understanding by showing that it is an untrustworthy basis of action, and the tenor of dispatches from Paris show how keenly the situation is felt in France. It is realized that as against the power of Germany even the active alliance of England would be a poor dependence, since France would have to rely upon her own strength to protect her territory from invasion. Rather than take such a risk it will be the policy of France to avoid any occasion of conflict, and so it defers to Germany in regard to the Moroccan question, and the control of the situation now passes to the kaiser, who has incidentally revealed himself to Europe as the master force in international politics.

Common Abuses.

Judge Galbreath's declaration in open court at Butler that no case will be considered there unless a bona-fide prosecutor appears, is of more than local interest. It is an assertion of a sacred constitutional principle. Carried to its logical conclusion it will free the courts of this commonwealth of some of the surplus business that is creating a continuous demand for additional law judges and more courts. That logical conclusion is to prohibit primary justices from returning cases instituted for personal advantage or revenge when not backed by a responsible prosecutor.

On many previous occasions The Gazette has called attention to the numerous abuses which have made of the system of primary justice in this state a reproach. Judge Savidge of the Northumberland county court stopped some of these abuses in his jurisdiction last fall and passed some wholesome strictures upon the practices of justices and constables. The Allegheny county controller has given attention, during a year or more, to the devices of these officers to improperly increase the revenues from their offices, with the result of saving the county much expense. These things have been commended by The Gazette in the same spirit in which it commends the ruling of Judge Galbreath in a case in which it was more directly concerned.

In the pioneer days the system of primary justice, vested in justices and constables empowered to use discretion, was satisfactory because matters of litigation were mainly between neighbors personally known to each other and to the officers. Abuses were rare. Cases went to court when one, or both, of the litigants proved stubbornly unreasonable, but the prosecutor was always known and responsible. It is not so now. Justices accept informations from strangers for the sake of the fee; constables trump up charges against foreigners or persons not in a position to prove innocence for fees or blackmail. It is time these abuses should be abated. Justice ought to be free to the humblest citizen who has been wronged, but the process of the law should not be so free and easy that any irresponsible scamp can prosecute, annoy, or blackmail law-abiding people.

No More Clashing.

What threatened to become an unseemly wrangle between departments of the city government over the closing of Fifth avenue now appears to have been adjusted. Emil Swensson, the well-known consulting engineer, who was specially engaged by Director Bigelow, reported yesterday that the work of demolition on the Avenue theater is progressing as rapidly as is consistent with safety to adjoining properties. The closing of the street has been to secure the safety of the public, a very proper consideration, so there is an end to the quarrel.

It is hoped the street may be opened very soon. It is naturally irritating to those owning business houses on the thoroughfare and to the general public to have it closed. Safety is, however, a higher consideration. There is no apparent foundation for the charges made by the director of public works and all concerned must await, with what patience they can summon, the reopening when all danger is passed.

Simultaneously the democratic head of President Loubet and the royal pate of Alfonso XIII. ducked to avoid the flying fragments.

"After you, my dear Alfonso!" he murmured, bowing deeply.—Cleveland Leader.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Wasn't it a splendid storm?

Those who suffered from it, or were frightened by its fury, may not have noticed its pure splendors.

But to those whose nervous systems were in good condition, and who could watch the brilliant electric display as tranquilly as though they were displays of fireworks, it was magnificent beyond anything seen here in many a long day.

From 11 o'clock Tuesday night until 4 o'clock the following morning, the electrical war between the cold air strata that had drifted in from the northwest in the wake of the storm which swept across the lake region the day before, and the mist-laden clouds borne northward by the warm south winds, raged terrifically.

And what a battle it was! The flash and roar of the heavy artillery at Port Arthur when the fighting was most desperate was but a poor imitation of the flash and roar of heaven's artillery during the sharp passages that occurred between the positive and negative forces in the air.

Cloudship after cloudship poured broadside after broadside into opposing cloudships so thunderously that the very earth shuddered and trembled.

* * *

And how like great warships on oceans of water those cloudships maneuvered on the turbulent sea of air. And how like monster battleships they poured fiery missiles into each other. Positive charges were received by negative charges of electricity, until the cloudships were exhausted, or rather until an equal potential had been established.

Equilibrium of electrical forces means peace, the same as political and social equilibrium means peace among nations, in communities, and in homes.

Disturbed equilibrium is a bad thing, a mighty bad thing anywhere, and is sure to make lots of trouble.

There is nitroglycerine, for instance, which is so soft and smooth and innocuous as so much dough until the equilibrium of its component elements is disturbed. You know what happens when this disturbance occurs, or at least you have heard of the death and devastation that has followed the disturbance of the quiet repose of the elements of this particular compound.

Electrical energy is even greater than that in nitroglycerine, and yet when in a state of equilibrium it is as mild and genial and wholesome as pure air, in fact, the elements are in the air we breathe and give to it its vital qualities. By disintegrating this same wholesome air by means of rapidly-moving armatures, we get what is known as electricity.

* * *

We think we make an awful lot of electricity, and so we do, according to our standards. But when we compare our output with that of one of nature's laboratories—the one that was working on Tuesday night, for instance—we simply are not in it.

It is not too much to say that all of the generators in the United States, working to their fullest capacity, could not furnish a single spark as long as some that you saw burning their way across the face of the clouds.

Nor is it too much to say that all the generators in the world, working to their fullest capacity, could not have furnished the energy necessary to produce the electrical display of Tuesday night.

Here is a comparison of facts which shows how very small our electric generators really are.

According to the best authorities, the longest spark that has yet been produced by our electrical instruments was between four and five feet, or about 54 inches. This required 200,000 volts, which is regarded as an astounding force.

Now compare a spark five feet long with some of those seen the other night not a whit short of five miles in length, and see where we are. We can't even conceive the number of volts necessary to produce one of these, and yet there were hundreds of them.

When we come to compare the forces which we control with those which we don't, we must own up that we are not in it.

* * *

Did you notice the rain—how like a flood it came down—until the streets were converted into torrential streams?

Well, every drop of that water had to be made, for water does not grow. It is the product of the actual combustion of hydrogen and oxygen gases, in the proportion of two atoms of hydrogen to one of oxygen.

May it not be that lightning furnishes the blaze in which this combustion takes place? No doubt you have often noticed sudden downpours of rain immediately following a sharp flash of lightning. Whether this is due to the conversion of free hydrogen and oxygen into water, or to the squeezing of the water-laden vapor by the concussions due to the electric discharge, is an open question.

And what do you know about thunder? Of course you have heard it often, and it is probable that you were taught that the rolling and rumbling is due to the reverberations of the sound caused by the initial explosion.

That used to be the accepted theory, but it has been supplanted by one that is far more reasonable, to wit: The lightning flash travels so much faster than sound that we hear the final crash before the sound of the first and intermediate explosions reaches us, so that the rumbling that follows the crash is but the sound of the preceding explosions.

* * *

Taken all in all we are a mighty poor, weak lot from a physical point of view, and as creatures are but specks or motes in comparison with the universe.

Fortunately for man he has another side. This is his spiritual or intellectual side. While he diminishes in size to a mote in the physical universe, and is compelled, on account of his insignificant physique, to remain in contact with the earth, and a small part of it at that, he can soar aloft on his spiritual wings and wander among the stars, or dive into the depths and read the records there.

While his body is unwieldy and slow his mind is swifter in its flight than is light itself, than which we know of nothing that is swifter—so swift that it may circle the globe seven and one-half times in a second of time, or while you are saying Jack Robinson.

So distant are some of the visible stars that it requires months and years, even centuries, for their light to reach us. But man's spirit, or that which he calls his mind, can fly to the most distant star and return in a second of time.

Physical man is not anything to boast of, but spiritual man is superior to all things physical and ranks next to God in the universe.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Final preparations are being made by the second squadron of the North Atlantic fleet, which sails for Cherbourg, France, tomorrow, to bring back to the United States the body of John Paul Jones. The squadron, consisting of the armored cruiser Brooklyn, with Rear Admiral Sigsbee on board, and the protected cruisers Chattanooga, Galveston and Tacoma, assembled early today off Tompkinsville. Admiral Sigsbee expects to reach Cherbourg in about 13 days. He will be met there by the French warships which are to take part in the ceremonies in that harbor.

On the Brooklyn there are about 100 discontented bluejackets and marines. The Brooklyn has been on the go for more than two years, and three weeks ago, when she arrived in New York, the jackies and marines applied for leave in swarms. At least 175 of the 600 men and boys composing the crew of the cruiser overstayed their leaves. Fifty of them forgot to return within 10 to 15 days. For a week the stragglers have been coming in. Today about 30 were still unaccounted for. When the cruiser puts to sea and the officers get a chance to talk the matter over, the fate of the delinquents will be determined. It is not expected that any will be punished very severely, but the question was an absorbing topic among the delinquents yesterday. Scores of the offenders have never been in France, and the prospect of being confined to ship as a punishment when the Brooklyn reaches Cherbourg made many of them feel very sad indeed. Paris is one of the treats sailors and marines have.

Maude Adams Passes Through Crisis.

Despite the denials of managers, it was learned today at the residence of Dr. Robert Abbe that Maude Adams recently underwent an operation for appendicitis and, after lying at the point of death for a week, is now convalescing at her country home at Lake Ronkonkoma, L. I. The operation was performed May 15 by Dr. Abbe, at the actress' up-town residence, and though the patient lay for a time apparently at the point of death, she rallied, and is now well on the road to recovery. For two years Miss Adams has been something of an invalid, which fact has caused her temporary retirement from the stage from time to time, and the doctors have never been able to give a satisfactory diagnosis of her condition except to explain it as overwork.

It's Up to the City Now.

That the prediction that the atmosphere of the subway would be from 12 to 15 degrees cooler in summer than in the street is a mistake, has been shown by accurate tests made with thermometers. Instead of being cooler the subway is from three to six degrees warmer, and, added to the excessive heat, there are offensive odors and a marked humidity. One official of the company said today, with considerable emphasis, that the city would have to do whatever might be done. He said the city built the subway in exact conformity to plans made by William Barclay Parsons, and that if Mr. Parsons' plans for ventilation were inadequate or faulty, the city must now look to Mr. Parsons to correct his mistake.

Sousa's Prima Donna to Marry.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Estelle Liebling, the well-known singer, to A. R. Mosler, eldest son of Henry Mosler, the famous painter. Miss Liebling was a member of the Metropolitan opera company, and has for three seasons past been the prima donna of the Sousa band, with which she has traveled over the greater art of the world. During one of her recent trips abroad she sang before the king of England. Mr. Mosler is an electrical engineer and a successful inventor and manufacturer, being well known to the automobile manufacturing trade of this country. It is said that Miss Liebling will continue in her professional career after her marriage.

Not Dead but Sleeping.

Supposed for more than two hours to be dead, and after a rabbi and undertaker had been sent for, Benjamin Lunski was brought back to consciousness and is today well along toward complete recovery. Lunski, who is a retired stock broker, 67 years old, has been under the care of Dr. Anton Bockar for two and a half years. When the doctor was informed by telephone that Lunski was dead, and was asked to give a death certificate, he decided to go to the house before making out the certificate. There the doctor discovered that there was a slight mistake, and a death certificate would be useless for the present.

Another Attempt to Wreck Bridge.

What is believed to have been a second attempt to destroy the new Pennsylvania railroad bridge, under construction over the Hackensack river, was made early today, when 10 men were discovered inside the cordon of detectives thrown around the construction plant. The men opened fire with revolvers on the detectives, and a running fight ensued, in which scores of pistol shots were exchanged. The darkness spoiled the aim of both sides, and no one was injured so far as is known. No one was captured.

Children Pray for Sick Lad.

Mrs. Joseph Canepi, mother of Charles Canepi, the 6-year-old Yonkers boy who has lain in a death-like sleep for 63 days as a result of an attack of cerebro-spinal meningitis, said today that the boy shows no signs of consciousness yet and still remains in the same strange stupor. The boy now opens his eyes every day, yet there is no sign of recognition on his part. Every day the children at St. Marys school, where Charlie attended, offer up prayers for the return to health of the boy, while priests visit the home every day and pray at his bedside. An altar has been erected at the head of Charlie's bed by his mother, on which candles are kept burning day and night.

Planting Grown-Up Trees.

Just at present the season of planting grown-up trees is at its height in Buffalo. The other day four immense elms were transported out of Delaware avenue, destined to shade the lawn of a man who is building a splendid new home. One hundred and fifty dollars is what he will have to pay for each of them. But he has a guarantee that they will be replaced if they die within three years.—Buffalo Express.

SWEDEN AND NORWAY

The Nations Which Are About to Separate.

The decision of Norway to throw off the rule of King Oscar, who has been monarch of both Sweden and Norway, was the result of long agitation, the movement first taking tangible shape in 1890 when Norway demanded separate foreign representation. It is in the foreign relations of the two kingdoms that their union is made especially emphatic, for the foreign minister is a Swede. Norway repeatedly asked for a consular service of her own, but this would mean a separate minister for that country and the request has been refused. Only recently an act of the storthing, or Norway legislature, providing for a separate consular service was refused royal sanction.

While the two nations adjoin, the character of the people differ in that democratic tendencies are much stronger in Norway. Beside Sweden is protectionist while Norway favors free trade. That the decision to divide the government does not imply hard feeling is shown by the fact that Norway has suggested that their next ruler be from the house of Bernadotte, which holds the throne of Sweden.

The Scandinavian States.

The relations of the Scandinavian states form one of the complicated tangles of history. The strong powers have been alternately Denmark and Sweden and one or the other has held Norway the middle ages. Denmark was long the leading Scandinavian state, and the efforts of her kings to establish their rule over all three countries led to many wars. During the 16th century Sweden established her independence, and since then has always been ruled by her own kings, while Denmark and Norway remained subject to one crown until the early part of the 19th century.

Sweden has had a notable part in the history of Europe, for in the 17th century the nation was one of the great powers in the north. The prosperity and material expansion began under Gustavus Adolphus in 1611, and successful wars were waged with Poland, Russia, Denmark and German provinces. But success was not of long duration. The czar, Peter, won back Russian territory which has since become an important part of the empire. The climax came when Finland was taken from Sweden with the other Swedish land east of the Gulf of Bothnia permanently annexed to Russia.

How They Became United.

In the early part of the 19th century when there was no direct heir to the throne, the country was practically subject to Napoleon Bonaparte and was obedient to his dictation. The Swedish diet made a shrewd stroke of policy which astonished Europe by electing one of Napoleon's marshals, Gen. Bernadotte, as crown prince. He was the man for the crisis, devoting himself with great vigor and ability to securing the independence of his adopted country. He joined in the European coalition by which Napoleon was defeated. In that struggle he attacked Denmark, which was supporting Napoleon, and in 1814 exacted from her the cession of Norway which was confirmed by the powers at the congress of Vienna.

A large element in Norway opposed this union and under Prince Christian Frederick set up a government, but they could not maintain it, for they could get no help from Denmark, while Prince Bernadotte of Sweden started to invade their territory. When certain guarantees about the rights assured to Norway had been agreed upon the king of Sweden was elected to the throne of Norway.

The House of Bernadotte.

In 1818 Bernadotte mounted the throne as Charles XIV. Under his able administration the united kingdoms of Sweden and Norway made great advances in material prosperity and political and intellectual progress. His son and successor, Oscar I., and his grandsons, Charles XV. and the present King Oscar II., who came to the throne in 1872, established themselves in the affection of the Swedes, but Norway has been restive from the very beginning of the union.

The present king of Sweden is 76 years old and the third son of Oscar I. He has kept two kingdoms in peace and has been an active patron of art and industry, which have thrived under his rule. His reputation as an impartial monarch has led to his selection to decide disputes submitted to arbitration. He has literary aspirations and has attained some success as a writer. Owing to the weakness of age he has several times abdicated temporarily in favor of Crown Prince Gustave, and only recently took the throne again after such a period of retirement. He has opposed in every way the movement to dissolve the union between the nations, making concessions when he thought they might avert or postpone a division. In 1859 he allowed the emblem of Sweden to be removed from the flag of Norway, which resumed its ensign. Sweden has an area of 172,528 square miles and a population of 4,784,981. The area of Norway is over 124,000 square miles and her population is over 2,000,000.

Now Is the Time to Subscribe.

From the Kansas City Journal.

A man who was too economical to subscribe for his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in 10 minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance, and, failing to notice a barbed wire fence, ran into it, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the cornfield and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket the wife ran upset a four-gallon churn of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. In her hurry she dropped a $25 set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor, ruining a $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens, and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts.

A BOON TO SMOKERS.

What the Government Is Doing to Improve the Quality of Our Tobacco.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The time may not be far distant when a man can go into a cigar store, lay down a nickel and get a Texas perfecto, equal in aroma and flavor to that imported from Havana and retailed at 15 or 20 cents. From experiments conducted last year by the bureau of soils of the department of agriculture, it has been demonstrated that the finest quality of filler cigar tobacco can be grown in Texas. It would require quite a stride on one's credulity to insist that it is as good tobacco as the Havana product, which is conceded to be the very best grown anywhere on the face of the earth. The government experts do not claim that for it. But they have demonstrated that the climatic conditions and the soil of Texas are favorable to the cultivation of the same tobacco plants that are grown in Cuba and there seems to be no reason why, with experience, that district should not produce a crop equal to that grown in Cuba.

* * *

In conducting experiments last year the experts of the agricultural department leased eight acres of ground in Natchedoches, Houston and Lee counties, Texas, and sowed the ground with tobacco seed imported from Cuba. The crop was harvested, cured and fermented, and sold through a Philadelphia agent to several cigar manufacturers who were invited to make it up into cigars and give the government their opinion of it. These manufacturers, with one exception, spoke very highly of the Texas tobacco. A tobacco journal, in speaking of the tests made at Lancaster, Pa., factory, said: "William Levy, superintendent of the factory, one of Lancaster's leading authorities on tobacco, made the samples up into cigars and all who have tested them speak in terms of praise of the article."

A Louisville firm in making its report, said: "The continual experimenting we should think, would convince the farmers that they grow good tobacco, and would also convince the manufacturer that the tobacco grown in that state is of very good quality and will make a very satisfactory cigar."

A cigar manufacturer in Texas made the following statement: "I have been working hard experimenting, and as you know, I have worked in all the tobacco grown in the United States and, notwithstanding that this country is in its infancy, I predict that with experienced men for curing the tobacco, we will beat Havana within five years." This coming from a Texas man, it might reasonably be considered that locality had somewhat colored his opinion. Perhaps locality has something to do with the opinion of the Philadelphia firm, which tested the government grown tobacco and in reporting upon it said: "We find, however, that the quality is not good enough to use as a substitute for Havana tobacco, in fact it is hardly equal to the filler tobaccos which are grown in the better sections of Pennsylvania."

The cost of producing the government crop amounted to 21.6 cents a pound, and it was marketed, fermented and packed at from 28 to 40 cents a pound. But the experts claim that the cost of this experimental crop should not be taken as a fair estimate of raising tobacco in that country, for the reason that they were obliged to hire teams and pay rental for the land and for barns, all of which made the cost much higher than it would if some farmer had been doing it on his own account. They estimate that the farmer having all the facilities on his plantation for cultivation, can grow tobacco at a cost not exceeding 10 cents a pound and get a minimum yield of 600 pounds to the acre. Furthermore they present a table in their report showing that a net profit of more than 50 per cent awaits the man who cares to go into tobacco raising in Texas.

It has been established by the experiments that Texas has a climate that will grow the same sort of tobacco that is raised in Havana. Tables showing the temperature, humidity and precipitation have been prepared and comparisons made with tables for the corresponding months of the year in and about Havana. It has also been established that the soil best suited for growing Cuban tobacco is that known as the Orangeburg fine sandy loam and of this there is plenty in the south. Not only is it found in Texas, but there is an abundance of it in South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana.

* * *

So taking everything into consideration, there appears to be good ground for the prediction that within a few years there will be grown in this country a cigar tobacco that can compare favorably with the Cuban product. The production of a cigar leaf tobacco is not a new and untried industry in the south. A very desirable wrapper was produced in Gadsden county, Florida, for many years prior to the civil war. It was a handsome spotted leaf, in great favor with the trade and known as Old Florida tobacco. Its production which had ceased by the close of the war, was not attempted until some 25 years later, but it was abandoned, the Sumatra wrapper having taken its place. In 1884 and 1885 several farmers of Gadsden county grew small patches of tobacco from seed imported from Cuba and some of this tobacco was purchased by a large cigar manufacturing firm of New York. The company was so impressed with the good qualities of this leaf that it sent representatives to investigate the conditions where it was grown, with the result that it purchased and equipped plantations in Gadsden county. From the beginning the tobacco industry in this part of Florida revived and now Sumatra and Cuban wrappers and Cuban fillers are produced in considerable quantities.

Lack of Soldiers and Sailors.

From the Boston Globe.

In this country we have been long familiar with the complaint that it is hard to get Americans to enlist in the navy or engage in the marine service. On top of this knowledge comes the news from Canada that it has been found practically impossible to garrison the fortifications at Halifax and Esquimault with Canadian troops. It is probable that both in Canada and the United States the conditions responsible for this reluctance of young men to enlist is the very condition of national prosperity which both countries are glad to record. The industrial and commercial opportunities in America today are so numerous and widespread that very much more generous inducements than are now held out to young men, apparently, must be offered to persuade them to abandon the civil for the military life.

CONFER ON PARTY NOMINATIONS

Chairman Ford Appoints Committees to Meet Orphans, Veterans and Labor Bodies.

LEAGUE INDORSES ZAHNISER

County Chairman Thomas J. Ford yesterday appointed committees to confer with the Orphans party, the War Veterans' association, the Soldiers' Civic league and the allied labor bodies in regard to the nominations on the Republican county ticket. Two committees are appointed, the general committee being composed of 17 Republican leaders from all sections of the county, and a subcommittee of four to conduct negotiations directly with the organizations which ask to be considered in the nominations.

The sub-committee is to make its reports to the general committee, which has power to make recommendations concerning candidates. W. H. Keech is chairman of both committees. The subcommittee, which is to meet a similar committee from each of the organizations mentioned, is composed of W. H. Keech, Pittsburgh; Francis L. Robbins, Allegheny; John P. Hunter, Pittsburgh, and L. L. Davis, Homestead.

The general committee is composed of the following: W. H. Keech, Pittsburgh; Francis J. Torrance, Allegheny; Francis L. Robbins, Allegheny; George T. Oliver, Pittsburgh; Elliott Rodgers, Allegheny; John A. Bell, Carnegie; Robert McAfee, Allegheny; John R. Murphy, Allegheny; William Flinn, Pittsburgh; John P. Hunter, Pittsburgh; M. G. Leslie, Pittsburgh; John H. Henderson, Allegheny; L. L. Davis, Homestead; Peter Langsdorf, McKeesport; Henry G. Wasson, Pittsburgh; David Hardy, McKeesport; John Hemphill, Tarentum.

Appointment on Saturday.

"These committees are expected to hold meetings next week with committees from the Orphans, the War Veterans' association, the Soldiers' Civic league and the affiliated labor organizations," said Chairman Ford. "I look for the judges to appoint a county commissioner on Saturday," he added.

Former Senator William Flinn and John P. Hunter called upon Chairman Ford yesterday afternoon. Mr. Flinn was asked if City Chairman Leslie would be re-elected.

"I know of no reason why he should not be re-elected," was Mr. Flinn's reply. He declined to discuss the vacant county commissionership or the county ticket.

Notwithstanding the statements of Citizens party leaders that the Republicans have made a bargain with the Orphans party for the appointment of W. J. Zahniser to succeed the late J. Carson Mercer, the Republican leaders declare no person has yet been agreed upon, and will not for a day or two. The judges are to meet on Saturday.

City Payroll Beaten.

The city payroll was beaten in a contest for honors at the annual election of officers of the Commercial club in the Thirteenth ward Tuesday night. The Commercial club is a political organization and draws its membership principally from the Thirteenth ward, but to some extent from the Eleventh ward. Charles C. Schad of the Republican ward organization defeated for president John Cashmore, superintendent of the municipal hospital by 29 votes, and A. R. Girdwood, Republican common councilman, defeated William Spratt, an inspector of Director Bigelow's department. Girdwood and Spratt were candidates for vice president.

Although the Citizens county convention is scheduled to be held on June 27, there is not an inkling when the primaries to elect delegates to the convention and members of the county committee are to take place. It is a source of much wonder how any candidate, if there is to be a free field, can set up 629 delegates in the 20 days remaining before the convention is held. County Recorder O'Neil, who is the slated Citizens candidate to succeed himself, refused yesterday to give any information how or when the delegates to the convention are to be chosen.

It is known, however, that the so-called primaries will not be held until about a week before the convention and that the bosses of the Citizens party have already completed the list of the delegates. Wherever possible the delegates and members of the county committee have been chosen from city and county employes.

W. K. Jennings, a member of the executive board of the Municipal League, announced yesterday that the league had indorsed the action of the Orphans committee in recommending the appointment of W. J. Zahniser as county commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. Carson Mercer. With the indorsement of the Orphans and the Municipal League and the backing of influential Republicans, Mr. Zahniser is considered as having more than an even chance of getting the appointment and a nomination on the Republican ticket.

MARINE HOSPITAL PLANS DISCUSSED

Architecture of the Pittsburgh Building Will Be Decided in a Few Days.

MAY BE STONE STRUCTURE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.

Dr. Walter Wyman, surgeon general of the Marine hospital service, will in a few days decide upon the plans for the marine hospital at Pittsburgh, for which congress two years ago appropriated $125,000. A conference was held today between Dr. George T. Vaughan of the marine hospital service and Supervising Architect Taylor of the treasury, relative to plans for the Pittsburgh hospital, and it is now proposed to adopt the same plans as those drawn for the hospital at Buffalo. The matter was laid before Dr. Wyman for his decision.

The same amount has been appropriated for the Buffalo hospital as for that at Pittsburgh, but $29,000 of that amount was paid for a site, while the site for the Pittsburgh hospital was secured without cost. The Buffalo building is to be three stories and basement, 140 feet long, and constructed of red brick with stone trimmings and tile roof.

On the first floor will be a reception room, surgeons' office, quarters for the interne and dispensary adjoining, as well as a laboratory. The second floor is to be given up almost entirely to wards, together with a large smoking room communicating with a veranda and a patients' dining room. The third floor will be occupied by the operating room and its accessories and quarters for attendants. The main kitchen is also to be located on the third floor, which will guard against any fumes reaching the patients. The basement is to contain the usual amount of rooms for operating the heating and ventilating apparatus, together with a large amount of space for storage.

Possibly with the $29,000 which Pittsburgh will have over Buffalo the structure at Pittsburgh can be erected entirely of stone.

GEORGE W. ELKINS DIES AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

Pioneer in Oil Business and Prominent in Organization of Traction Companies in This City.

Col. George W. Elkins, for many years one of the most prominent financiers of the city, died yesterday morning at 8:25 o'clock, after an illness which had extended over a period of nearly two years. The primary cause of his sickness was a dropsical affection, but the end was hastened by a complication of diseases. He was confined to his home, 815 North Highland avenue, during the greater part of last winter. The climax in his illness came four days ago. In his busy career Mr. Elkins was largely interested in oil and traction companies. He began his business life with his brother, W. L. Elkins, as the owner of a refinery in Philadelphia, coming to Pittsburgh in 1868 and starting the Riverside refinery on the north side of the Allegheny river, near

George W. Elkins.

Millvale. In the early eighties he turned his attention to traction matters. He was identified with the late Senator C. L. Magee, and was prominent in the organization of the old Pittsburgh Traction Company, he being the president. Upon the consolidation of the Pittsburgh Traction and Duquesne Traction companies he remained as president, and later was a member of the board of directors of the Consolidated Traction Company.

When the Pittsburgh Railways Company was formed he disposed of his stock to the new company, but his active business still demanded much of his attention and he continued to maintain a downtown office. For more than a year, however, he had been unable to be at his office.

Mr. Elkins was 77 years old in March. He was born in Schuylkill county and was a son of George W. and Hosanna Elkins. He is survived by nine children, five daughters and four sons. They are Mrs. H. C. Peebles, Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. T. P. Knoble, Mrs. W. T. Fraser, W. L. and C. C. Elkins of Pittsburgh, P. C. Elkins of Boston, and H. H., Louise and Catherine, also of Pittsburgh.

Thomas Robinson Herd.

Thomas Robinson Herd, the retired cracker manufacturer of Allegheny, and a well-known business man of this section for nearly half a century, died suddenly at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning of heart trouble at his home, 1211 Locust street, Allegheny, after an illness of about a year. Mr. Herd about eight years ago sold his factory in Beech avenue, Allegheny to the National Biscuit Company and fellow then had lived retired. He was born in Philadelphia on January 27, 1824, and was a son of Thomas R. Herd, who emigrated to the United States in 1824 from England. Mr. Herd's parents came to this vicinity shortly after he was born and he has resided here since. Mr. Herd became a member of the firm of James McClurg & Co. when it was organized, and continued with that firm till 22 years ago, when he withdrew and organized the firm of Thomas R. Herd & Co. and established the Beech avenue, Allegheny, plant. He married Mary J. McChesney of Allegheny 42 years ago and she and one daughter, Mrs. W. C. McKnight of Pittsburgh, survive. Mr. Herd was a member of the First United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, for 40 years and had been a trustee in the church for the last 20 years.

Beriah Wilkins.

Beriah Wilkins, owner, editor and publisher of the Washington Post, and formerly representative in congress from Ohio, died suddenly yesterday of heart failure, at his residence in Washington, D. C. Mr. Wilkins was born in Ohio, 80 years ago, and for a time was manager of the principal bank in Uhrichsville. He served in the latter years of the civil war. In 1879 he was elected to the Ohio state senate, and three years later became a member of the Democratic state central committee. In 1883 he was elected to congress and served three terms. He acquired a majority interest in the Washington Post in 1889, and five years later purchased the minority interest. He was a director and a stockholder in many of the prominent corporations of Washington. Mr. Wilkins is survived by a widow and two sons, John F. Wilkins, business manager and secretary of the Washington Post, and Robert C. Wilkins, the treasurer.

Patrick F. Kane.

Patrick F. Kane, aged 78, an old First ward resident, died yesterday morning at his home, 232 Third avenue. For years he had conducted a clear store at that address, living over the store. He was interested in the reunion of the old First ward students held on Tuesday, and had been appointed on one of the committees. His badge arrived but he never saw it, as he was stricken with paralysis last Friday. He came to America with his parents, from County Derry, Ireland, when a boy. The family settled in the First ward, where the boy first attended school, later going to college. During the gold fever in 1849 he went to California and remained there 25 years with two brothers. He came back to Pittsburgh 28 years ago, opening a restaurant in Diamond street and later starting the cigar store. He never married.

Louis J. Good, Sr.

Louis J. Good, Sr., one of the oldest musicians in the city, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Kate Enoch, 116 Dennison avenue, of general debility. He was born in Allegheny and passed his entire life in that city, save for the past few years, which he had spent with his daughter in the East End. For many years he was employed in the mills of Moorhead, Bilger & Zug. He was a member of the old order of the Sons of Vulcan, and for more than 25 years was a member of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers. He was one of the organizers of the Musical union, and for years was a member of the Cathedral band. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Kate Ebeck, Louis J., Jr., John and Albert Good, Mrs. Minnie Bishop, Mrs. Annie Long, Miss Mollie Good and Mrs. Stella Horen.

Mrs. A. M. Swoger.

Mrs. Jennie Cairns Swoger, aged 35, wife of A. M. Swoger of Sheraden, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. S. Kuhns, in Avalon, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, after a 10-day's illness. Mrs. Swoger was born in New York, but had made her home in Sheraden many years. She is survived by her husband and three small children.

Obituary Notes.

Greensburg relatives have been informed of the death in Florida of Dr. M. B. Gault, one of the first principals of the old Greensburg academy. He was born in Tyrone township, Fayette county 64 years ago, and was a director of the Mariston sanitarium for years.

Henry Howard Page, aged 54 years, of the East End, Pittsburgh, died yesterday at the home of his brother, Charles Page, at Mt. Pleasant. Mr. Page was born in Clarion county. FLATLY REJECT STRIKERS' TERMS

SLUGGING CASE IN COURT

CHICAGO, June 7.—After a conference lasting for five hours, between the Employers' association and the committee appointed by the teamsters' joint council with full power to settle the strike, all negotiations were declared off tonight, and there is no immediate probability of a settlement.

The union submitted a number of proposals which the employers flatly refused to consider. Chief among these was that that if the strike was declared off, all the police and deputy sheriffs now protecting non-union men, should be withdrawn. The employers refused to consider such a proposal for an instant, declaring they would maintain the guards as long as there was the slightest change of violence.

The teamsters also demanded that if the strike be called off the business houses refuse to receive from, or deliver to the express companies any merchandise. This proposal was also promptly declined by the employers.

Another demand by the teamsters was that all strikers be given positions before any new non-union men were hired. This was also refused.

There were a number of other demands made by the teamsters, which might have received favorable consideration, but the parties to the conference were so far apart on the chief demands made by the union that there was no use of taking them up.

An affidavit filed in the United States circuit court today by counsel for the American Express Company charges that William J. Baker was paid by the Teamsters' union to slug non-union teamsters. Deputy United States marshals are searching for Baker.

The affidavit is signed by Charles Ward, an employe of the express company, who declares he was assaulted by a crowd of men led by Baker, and that while several union pickets held him by the arms Baker beat him over the head with a club. Ward declared he later had a talk with Baker, who did not recognize him as the man whom he had beaten, and Baker admitted that, while he was not a teamster or connected with the Teamsters' union, he was hired by that organization to beat non-union men, receiving $4.50 and "supper money" for each man beaten.

DOUBLE TRADING STAMPS

To Be Given Today and For Rest of Week.

WEISSER'S ENTERPRISE.

By Special Arrangements With Originators of Trading Stamps.

BIG CROWDS EXPECTED.

A good many people regard the collecting of trading stamps as a fad, but those who have given the matter the consideration it deserves are aware that thousands of families throughout the United States collect stamps because of the valuable household articles which they thus secure absolutely free of charge.

In Pittsburgh and vicinity particularly trading stamps have gained a foothold which never could have been gained were these stamps anything but a positive benefit to the community.

Weisser, Low & Co., the Market street drygoods firm, have made special arrangements with Sperry & Hutchinson, proprietors of the original trading stamp system, which will result in great benefit to the customers of Weisser, Low & Co. this week.

Beginning today, and continuing throughout the rest of the week, this firm will give double trading stamps in every department. It is to be a double value sale, because extra values will be given in everything purchased.

The reliability of Weisser, Low & Co. for selling only honest goods at the lowest prices is too well established to be dwelt upon here. As the sale includes drygoods and all lines of women's apparel, including outer and under garments, drygoods, umbrellas, etc., as well as men's furnishing goods, etc., this most unusual opportunity awaits everybody.

There is something you will soon need in the drygoods line. Make the purchase now while you may get double trading stamps.

It would be well at least to visit the store today or during the remaining days of this week in order to see the big values that are offered. Another such opportunity for getting big bargains in staple, seasonable drygoods, and in addition to be given double trading stamps, may never come to you again.

Sperry & Hutchinson trading stamps are more in demand than ever before, because their list of premiums is larger and the premiums are more valuable than ever. Without doubt every person who knows the value of these trading stamps will come to this sale.

We advise all to come as early in the day as possible in order to avoid the crowds.

FOUR O'CLOCK TEA ON THE SPECIAL

New Pennsylvania 18-Hour Train Will Have All the Elegance of Society.

SEWICKLEY CENTER OF SYSTEM

After this week the familiar phrase "All the comforts of home," used as a description of the luxuries of modern travel, will have its place only in a treatise on the history of the development of American railway passenger service. It will on Sunday be superseded by another: "All the elegance of society." With the initial trip of the Pennsylvania Special, the new 18-hour New York-Chicago train of the "Standard Railroad of America," there will be introduced several novel features, but none more unique than the entertainment of its patron-guests by the railroad company at 4 o'clock tea.

The long wait between luncheon and dinner is eliminated. Four o'clock tea will vary the afternoon's ride, and over the Oolong it is certain that the ladies of each day's party will enjoy life on the rail as much as attendance at a session of the Sorosis. It's just a dream of an idea, and will be ever so nice.

Any person who happens to be in the vicinity of the Sewickley depot of the Ft. Wayne may see, about 12:45 a. m., Monday, the rare phenomenon of two lightning streaks passing each other, for Sewickley is proved by this train to be the running time center of the Pennsylvania's line from New York to Chicago. The westbound train is scheduled to reach the Union station at 12:30, midnight; the eastbound at 12:59, midnight. Allowing five minutes for chanking engines and taking aboard Pittsburgh passengers, it will be seen that there is about 28 minutes' difference between the leaving time of the westbound and the arrival of the eastbound. Running on the mile-a-minute schedule the trains would pass in the Sewickley valley, near Sewickley proper.

Train Not Long But Fine.

To one observing the new train, its appearance is not so striking as that of the Pennsylvania Limited. The latter is one of the longest and heaviest fast trains in the world, and the engines have not yet been built which would take that train from New York to Chicago in 18 hours in regular service. Except for a couple of divisions at each end of the run the Pennsylvania Special will have but three cars. They will be a library smoking car, drawing-room-sleeping car and an observation compartment car. Out of New York and out of Chicago each afternoon tea and dinner will be served, and entering each of these cities breakfast will be served, the dining cars being attached in ample time for the enjoyment of these meals. At the new York end of the run the service will be table d'hote and at the Chicago end, a la carte. The train will have a bathroom, barber shop, library, stenographer, mail box and a ladies' waiting maid.

The fare on the train comes under the regular fare agreement made a number of years ago between the New York-Chicago lines. The base of these fares is $20 for a 20-hour run. For each hour less than 20, the fare is increased $1. Hence with an 18-hour train the fare becomes $38. This increase of fare is just cut in half for Pittsburgh passengers, an extra charge of $3 being made for a Pittsburgh-Chicago or Pittsburgh-New York trip on the handsome train.

Will Not Affect Other Traffic.

How can such a train be operated without serious derangement of other travel, and especially the freight service? is a question which has been asked many times since the Pennsylvania announced that it proposed to cut five hours off the time of its fastest New York-Chicago train. The question is answered by a reference to the millions of dollars which the company's president and board of directors have been so unstintingly spending for five years on immense yards, straight and low-grade tracks, and abundant motive power. Grade crossings have always been the "hoodoo" of railroad operation, for there lurked the danger which demanded slow running. These have been eliminated almost entirely on the Pennsylvania. Where formerly a train was forced to run slowly through many New Jersey towns as it left or entered New York, 60 miles an hour is now easily possible for through Rahway, New Brunswick, Elizabeth and other cities of that state, the Pennsylvania runs high and safe on elevated tracks.

It was the progress of this work of grade crossing removal that added largely to the determination of the Pennsylvania to remove its old Pennsylvania Special a couple of years ago. This train was running the distance in 20 hours, but the freight transportation difficulties of that time, the work on grade changes in Allegheny, Chicago and elsewhere, the building of many cut-offs and other considerations, made it advisable, in the opinion of the management, to take the train off until their plans were completed, and then show the country what the Pennsylvania could do in fast train operation. With no notice to the underofficials a special train making the trip in 17 hours was run through without difficulty last week, and this satisfied the railroad's management that the 18-hour schedule is easily feasible.

Up Faster Than Down Mountain.

The Pennsylvania Special will make its regular run with no disturbance of other traffic. The third and fourth track is so common a feature of the Pennsylvania throughout its length that there are many long stretches of track upon which a passenger train never enters, freights alone using certain tracks. In such places will be a chance for the fast runs, when the train will run so much better than a mile-a-minute that its average for the trip will be upheld.

The ascent of the Allegheny mountains from Altoona to Gallitzin has been pointed out as a place where much difficulty would be met in maintaining the fast schedule. This belief can be dissipated here. The plans provide for two engines on the trip and the distance of 11.8 miles will be covered in 17 minutes. The trip down that grade on the eastbound train will take longer than the ascent, for a minimum limit of 20 minutes for the descent is fixed by the company.

UNIVERSITY WILL NOT JOIN WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Chancellor McCormick Denies Report That Female Institution Will Become Department of the Big School.

Chancellor S. B. McCormick of the Western University of Pennsylvania yesterday denied the statement that the Pennsylvania college would be incorporated with the university as one of its departments. He said:

The university is co-educational in theory, but very few young women are in attendance. It may be that some arrangement may be made with the Pennsylvania College for Women whereby it may give the courses to the young women of the university and bring the two institutions into closer relations. It is altogether impossible, however, to make any announcement of any such arrangement which may indeed be found to be utterly impracticable.

The trustees of the university are busily engaged in seeking a new location, and will keep on with their efforts until a new site is secured. The grounds of the Pennsylvania College for Women are none too large for the college and would be utterly inadequate for the needs of the university.

CURIOSITY PROVES FATAL.

Small Boy Sees Father Use Automatic Cigar Cutter, and Loses Finger End in Machine.

Little Beside Williams saw his father clip off the end of a toby in an automatic cigar cutter in a Sixth avenue store yesterday afternoon and placed one of his tiny fingers in the machine to see how it worked. There was a sharp click and a quarter of an inch of the boy's finger was cut off.

The little fellow had come from Parnassus with his father, W. D. Williams, to see the sights of Pittsburgh and proved his pluckiness by insisting on making the trip to the parks and the big mills which his father had planned.

Funeral of Gen. Boynton.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—With distinctive military and civic honors, the former befitting his rank in two wars and the latter his notable record in other spheres of service to his country, Gen. Henry Van Ness Boynton, soldier, journalist and publicist, was buried today at the National cemetery at Arlington.

MAYOR REFUSES TO OPEN STREET

In Defiance of Bigelow He Orders Fifth Avenue Closed While Walls Threaten.

SEVEN WORKMEN QUIT JOBS

"Fifth avenue will not be opened to the public until the walls of the Avenue theater are safe," said Mayor Hays last night. "It matters not whether the ruins are adjudged safe tomorrow or next week. The ropes will be kept up and the thoroughfare will be closed just as long as the walls endanger human life. It is better to have a few people kicking because of the inconvenience to traffic than to have the blood of a lot of innocent victims of disaster upon our administration."

The mayor had just made an investigation on his own account and climbed all through the ruins. Earlier in the day, Engineer Emil Swensson, at the request of the department of public works, had made an examination of the walls and declared they could not be razed without great risk. Superintendent S. A. Dies of the bureau of building inspection still insisted on keeping the street closed and urged Director Harry Moore not to allow traffic to be resumed while the walls threatened to fall. Director Bigelow continued his opposition to Director Moore, and asked Superintendent Nicewaner of the bureau of highways and sewers to examine the walls. Nicewaner reported them entirely safe.

"I don't care what anybody reports," said Mayor Hays, as he climbed over the ropes at 9 o'clock last night. He was unaccompanied and made his investigation unknown to the workmen about the building.

"That wall endangers every pedestrian in Fifth avenue," he said. "It is now a difficult matter to get men who will work upon it. Today seven men threw up their jobs and their places have not been filled. These men were bridge workers who ordinarily laugh at danger, and when they are afraid it is pretty certain that something is up. That wall may 'buckle' out at any instant. It would be foolhardiness to open the street under such conditions, and I will not tolerate it."

"Director Bigelow says there is no danger," the mayor was reminded.

"Just the same the street will be tied up until that top section of the wall is removed," replied the mayor. "I hope it will be done soon. Delay is provoking, of course, but too much haste here might amount to murder."

SURROUND STRANGERS.

Woman Calls for Help and Secures Very Able Assistance.

Patrick Barry and James Plunkett gained entrance to the second story of the boarding house of Samuel Harstein in Braddock avenue, East Pittsburgh, last evening. Plunkett is said to have removed his clothing and attired himself in the clothes, hat and shoes of one of the boarders, while Barry loaded a suit case with such wearing apparel as appealed to him, and incidentally included a few watches.

While the men were thus engaged Mrs. Hartstien appeared upon the scene. In rich, soprano tones she informed the boarders, 21 in number, of her discovery and the announcement was given with such earnestness that it was heard in the Westinghouse plant opposite. Workmen from the plant and the boarders surrounded the men until the arrival of Constable Thomas Hanley, who placed them under arrest. Owing to the publicity of the affair, Plunkett was committed to jail in the suit which 21 boarders say is not his.

BARONESS PLEADS GUILTY OF THE THEFT OF LACES

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Alice Nissen, who claims to be the Baroness de Vorts Salmo, wife of an Austrian nobleman, today pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing laces from Mrs. William Slater, by whom she was employed as a maid. Sentence was suspended. The woman is suffering with consumption. She was not represented by counsel, but a man who said he was the Baron de Vorts Salmo, stated to the district attorney that it was the desire of his wife to plead guilty.

Yellow Jack at New York.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Upon the arrival of the Seguranca from Colon yesterday Frank O'Leary, 28 years old, a passenger, was removed by Health Officer Doty to Swinburne Island for observation. Dr. Doty today reported the patient is suffering with yellow fever.

Elect Pinckney's Successor.

HOUSTON, TEX., June 7.—Hon. John M. Moore, Democratic nominee, has been elected to congress from the Eighth congressional district in succession to the late John M. Pinckney, who was killed April 24 during a riot at a Prohibition mass meeting at Hempstead, Texas.

WILL NOT LET UP ON BEEF TRUST

President Roosevelt Declares Investigation Will Continue Without Interference.

GRAND JURY IS INSTRUCTED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.

"There can be and will be no relaxation in the efforts of the government to bring the managers of the beef trust under indictment for violation of the court's injunction. Every avenue for bringing evidence before the grand jury has been and is still being used by the department of justice. The government cannot indict, but it can perform its duty in bringing suspected criminals to punishment for violation of the law. The case is now practically up to the grand jury in Chicago, and when the government finally rests with that body it will have done all in its power to bring the suspected men under the law."

This is the answer made by the highest federal authority to all protests coming from the west that the government, in prosecuting its case against the beef trust has been too harsh and at times underhanded in its method. The grand jury meets in Chicago this week, and the investigation will go on along the same lines already laid out.

Complaints were brought directly to the president that the methods used by the department of justice in obtaining evidence were severely criticised and that, in fact, they caused many expressions of sympathy for the concerns and men under investigation. The complainants were assured that the president would not interfere with the course of the investigation.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Instructions were received today by the federal grand jury, which has been investigating the affairs of the beef industries, to continue the investigation and return indictments, if the testimony warranted such action. The instructions were in a communication received by Assistant United States District Attorney Godman, from his chief, C. B. Morrison, who is still in Washington, where he went to consult Attorney-General Moody regarding the investigation. At least 30 indictments, it is said, have already been drawn up by Assistant Attorney General Fagin.

CRAWFORD EXPLAINS GRAFT.

Defendant in the Psotal Fraud Cases Testifies as to His Transactions With George E. Lorenz.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—William G. Crawford was on the stand today in criminal court testifying in his own defense on a charge of conspiring with August W. Machen and George E. Lorenz to defraud the government in connection with the furnishing of supplies to the postoffice department. Crawford attempted to explain the testimony of Lorenz in relation to the transfer of proceeds of the letter carriers' satchel contract. Lorenz had testified that the proceeds had been sent to him and that he had divided them between Machen, Crawford and himself.

Crawford declared that he had sent to Lorenz only that part due him under the contract by which Lorenz and Crawford pooled their bids and shared in the profits. He explained the remittances sent him by Lorenz, amounting in all to one-fourth the amount Lorenz received, by saying that this amount was paid him by reason of cash payments made to Lorenz, without awaiting final settlement with the government.

ATTORNEYS FURNISH MONEY.

Contract Between Mrs. Maybrick's Mother and Counsel Is Produced in Evidence With Difficulty.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—After five subpoenas had been served on John H. Walter, formerly associate counsel for Baroness von Roques, mother of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, in her suit against D. W. Armstrong and others for the recovery of certain lands in Virginia and elsewhere, the defense today succeeded in getting in evidence several letters and a contract by which Walter and L. D. Yarrell, attorneys, undertook the prosecution of the case.

By this contract the attorneys were to furnish the money required for legal work and were to share in the proceeds of the suit in the event of a favorable decision.

"HAS WAR ENDED?" INQUIRED CHOATE

"I Hope to Heaven It Will Soon," Added Retiring Ambassador to England.

DENIES EQUITABLE RUMORS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 7.

Mr. Joseph H. Choate, who has just completed six years of service as the ambassador at the court of St. James, returned today on the steamship Caronia. Mr. Choate said he was not going to get to work at anything just yet, and started at once for his summer home, in Stockbridge, Mass. He was accompanied by Mrs. Choate and his daughter, Miss Mabel Choate.

"Has the war ended?" he inquired. "I hope to heaven it will end soon."

Asked if he knew he had been mentioned for president of the Equitable, Mr. Choate smiled.

"That exaltation is farthest from my ambition. I have not been personally consulted," he said.

"It has been rumored you are to be personal counsel to Mr. James H. Hyde?"

"There is no end to the ingenuity of the press," replied Mr. Choate. "I believe I am free to fill any place I desire. I have no plans. My wife wants me for home consumption and I shall devote myself to her. I may go back into law or into divinity. I might get along as a preacher. What would you advise me?"

Mr. Choate was asked if he was in favor of the president's policy of increasing the navy.

"I have always been in favor of keeping up the navy," was the answer. He was informed of the effort being made by the president to promote peace between Russia and Japan.

"I wish him luck," was the reply. "I shall hear more about that when I see him."

In honor of the returning ambassador the Bar association will hold a reception June 15.

GOVERNOR TRANSLATES DRAMATIC AMISH HYMN

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, June 7.—"And so you see," said Gov. Pennypacker, "that when the newspapers would have you believe the governor of that state is closeted with politicians at the executive mansion mapping out a campaign it is not always so. Some of his time is spent over Schwenckfelder's sermons."

The governor made this remark at the close of an address at the golden jubilee of the Young Men's Christian association of Harrisburg last night, after he had exhibited a book of the sermons of Schwenckfelder, and gave a translation of a hymn written in 1580 to the memory of the Schwenckfelder martyrs who died in the faith.

The governor explained that during the last legislature he was reading an Amish book one night at the executive mansion and the dramatic force of the hymn so strangely impressed him that he translated it into English.

GOVERNOR URGES ACTION.

Mr. Pennypacker Thinks Philadelphia Should Do Its Part Toward Improving River.

HARRISBURG, June 7.—Gov. Pennypacker has made public a copy of the following letter which he sent today to Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia:

Following the recommendation in the message of the governor, the legislature at its recent session made an appropriation of $375,000 to aid in deepening and improving the channel of the Delaware river. This generous appropriation approved the 8th day of May, 1905, was made upon condition that the city of Philadelphia appropriate a like sum. The way is thus opened for carrying on a work of the utmost importance not only to the city of Philadelphia, but to the entire commonwealth. The city councils will soon adjourn for their summer vacation, and it is much to be hoped that early steps may be taken for the accomplishment of this most desirable object.

CAUSES ELABORATE PLANS TO PREVENT ROBBERIES

Meyersdale Man Is Charged With Giving False Warnings of Plots to Wreck Passenger Trains.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CONNELLSVILLE, June 7.—Upon complaint of Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroad detectives a warrant was issued by Justice Frank Miller here today for the arrest of George Mercer of Meyersdale. Malicious mischief is the offense charged.

May 27 Mercer reported to Superintendent O. H. Hobbs of the Connellsville division of the Baltimore & Ohio that he had overheard a plot formed to hold up and rob eastbound passenger train No. 10 at Stewarton. This caused the officials to send out a decoy train, loaded with detectives on that night, but the expected holdup did not take place.

Last Sunday night the Pennsylvania railroad officials were informed of a plot to wreck and rob a train on the southwest branch. That night two engines, with a number of the members of the safety department of the road, were sent out over the branch and kept traversing it until all trains had passed that night, but the wreck and holdup did not occur. An investigation was instituted and it was found that George Mercer, the man who had informed them of the alleged "plot," was the same person who previously had caused the Baltimore & Ohio officials all their trouble. The officials of the two roads will jointly try to have Mercer punished severely.

STEALS CLERICAL OUTFIT.

Thief Visits Home of Braddock Preacher and Makes Novel Haul.

While the Rev. George E. Hawes, pastor of the Braddock United Presbyterian church was conducting a prayer meeting in his church last night, a man, whom the pastor designates as a "theological burglar," gained entrance into his residence in Kirkpatrick avenue and stole a suit case containing a black Prince Albert coat, a white vest, several white ties and a choice assortment of hymnals and prayer books, all of which were kept packed ready for emergency cases.

Five dollars in silver lay upon a mantle near where the dress suit case stood, and though the thief ransacked the house from cellar to attic, he did not touch the money.

During his operations, the thief removed a motto of "Welcome" from the hall wall and placed it gently upon the floor. He also opened the dress suit case, which he later took with him, and after discarding a pair of trousers and a few collars, marched off with the coat and the rest of the outfit.

THE GIANTS' VICTORY WAS A PRESENT

BUNGLING PLAY PROVES COSTLY

NO EVIDENCE OF ROWDYISM

Tommy Leach, the diminutive third-baseman of the Pirates, must bear the blame for the victory of the New York champions in the opening game of the local series at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. The champions won the game 5 to 3 and a holiday crowd of 8,000 lovers of baseball were sent home in a sadly disappointed frame of mind. It was a hard game to lose.

The play which gave the victory to the visitors happened in the Giants' half of the eighth inning. Mathewson started this inning with a sigle to left, but was forced at second by Donlin. Browne drove an easy one to Leach which that player fielded in fine shape. He had plenty of time for a double play, but to the amazement of the spectators and players he stood holding the ball, allowing Donlin to reach second, and when Tommy finally did make up his mind to try for Browne at first it was too late. This was the turning point in the Giants' favor and before the inning was over the visitors had chalked up three runs, which were enough to win the game.

Those who went over to the park thinking there would be trouble between the teams owing to recent differences were disappointed on the trouble end, but they were treated to one of the fastest and best played games of the season. Manager McGraw was on hand with his team and took part in the preliminary practice, and during the first inning he went out on the coaching lines, but that was all and as well behaved as one could ask. After the opening inning McGraw stuck to a seat on the bench, from which point not one word was heard from him.

John T. Brush owner of the Giants, was a spectator at the gate, but it was noticed that he did not mix with Owner Dreyfuss of the Pirates, contenting himself with a seat in a box to the left side of the stand, as far away from the box of the Pirates' owner as he could get. If the players on the New York team expected trouble at the hands of the more rabid fans they were probably agreeably surprised at the generous amount of applause bestowed on any good play made by the members of their team. The only display of anything like rowdyism during the afternoon was made by Catcher Bowerman of the New York team at the conclusion of the game, when he yelled at some of the spectators in the boxes, for which he was promptly called by Umpire O'Day.

The game was cleanly played and there was little fault finding with the decisions of Umpire O'Day, whose work was first class in every way. The great stumbling block in the Pirates' pathway was Christy Mathewson, who never pitched a better game than that of yesterday. He had his curve ball working in fine shape and the Pirates could not guage it. The best evidence of his clever pitching is shown by the fact that he struck out ten batsmen, among them being the leading stickers of the local team.

Patsy Flaherty, who did the pitching for the Pirates, also put up a clever exhibition. In only one inning did the Giants make at all free with his curves, and that was in the eighth after the chance had been given to retire the side without a run. The Pirates also made a few other bad plays. In the eighth inning, when there was a chance to tie the score, Clymer was stopped at third when he should have been home with his run. This held Clarke at second when he could easily have reached third and scored the tieing run on Matheweson's wild pitch.

The Pirates were the first to score. Ritchey opened the second inning by driving the ball to left field for what would ordinarily have been a single, but Mertes allowed the ball to get away from him and it counted for a three-base hit. Ritchey scored on Leach's infield drive. The Giants evened up the score in their half of the fourth, when, with two out, Bresnahan drew a base on balls and scored on Mertes' drive to right field for three bases.

The score remained a tie until the Giants' half of the eighth, when Leach made his misplay. The Giants' other score was made in the ninth on a three-base drive to left by Devlin and a single by Mathewson.

The Pirates in their half of the eighth scored two runs and would have tied the score and Clymer run the bases as he should. After Beaumont had gone out Flaherty reached first on an error by Gilbert and Clymer was also safe on an error by Devlin. Clarke then drove the ball against the right field fence, scoring Flaherty, Clymer reaching third and Clarke second. On a wild pitch by Mathewson Clymer scored and Clarke reached third. There he remained, as Beaumont struck out and Wagner went out from Dahlen to McGann. In the ninth the Pirates went out in order. The score:

GIANTS' OWNER DENIES VIOLATING HIS OWN LAW

John T. Brush States That McGraw Case Was Taken to Court to Get Fair Play.

John T. Brush, owner of the New York club, who is in the city at present, gave out the following statement last night:

"In his statement to the public yesterday, Mr. Pulliam says that he is satisfied with Judge Sheldon's decision, but he regrets that I have seen fit to repudiate my own legislation and seek relief in the courts against the operation of my own law.

"In reply I say that I did not apply to the courts for a repudiation of any law, but to restrain Mr. Pulliam from violating the constitution of the National league and the rule relative to the removal of players by the umpires.

"The rule says that 'any player removed by an umpire for a violation of the playing rules during the season of 1905 shall be fined $10 by the president of the league for each removal; and if in addition thereto the player so removed be suspended by the president of the league, said suspension shall carry with it a fine of $10 for each subsequent day so suspended.'

"Mr. McGraw was not removed from the game by the umpire on May 19, the day that he was charged with offending Dreyfuss, and unless he was Pulliam could not fine or suspend under the rule. We had a great many witnesses and affidavits to prove that what was charged on May 19, did not occur, but the president and board of directors absolutely refused to hear or consider them, declaring that the matter of penalizing McGraw to the extent of nearly $900 without a hearing, without even letting him know with what he was charged, was forever closed and beyond appeal. I personally begged the board to listen to a statement, but it refused to do so. The player is not the only individual for whom laws should be made.

"J. T. Brush."

Dave G. McDonald, manager of Brunots island racetrack, was authorized yesterday by W. R. Porter, owner of Belle Mc (2:04¼), to conclude a four-cornered race between his mare, Audobon Boy (2:03¼), Ecstatic (2:03¼), and Hazel Patch (2:05¼), to take place at Brunots island at a day agreed upon. The proposition is to post at once $2,000, play or pay, and make the match for $5,000 or $10,000 a corner, the winner to take all. This would bring together the fastest pacers in training in the world. If the match is arranged, Brunots island will have the greatest crowd ever seen at a racetrack in this part of the world.

Mr. McDonald is also authorized by Mr. Porter to make a match for the Pittsburgh mare, Belle Mc., on the same conditions with Audobon Boy and Ecstatic, to take place at the Readville track during its grand circuit meeting in September. Audobon Boy and Ecstatic are already matched to go at that track at that time. The new proposition is to let Belle Mc. in. James Y. Gatcomb, owner of Audobon Boy, has written to Mr. McDonald that he is willing to match his pacer against the Pittsburgh mare and the outlook is that a match of some sort is a probability.

Jockey Tod Sloan Reduced to Very Hard Straits.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Special.)—Jockey Tod Sloan arrived here from St. Louis today. The greatest rider of his day who just six years ago this month lived in a $12,000 a year suite at the Hotel Cecil, London, England, and made his riding engagements through the king of England's equerry, presented a different spectacle today.

With upturned collar and his diminuitive body shaking in the frigid blast from the oceanside, Sloan was one of the unlucky bettors in the train of Marius Gaius in the second race. He bet a lonely $5. Sloan will remain in New York.

Real Estate Boom Hinders Work.

Although there is cause for congratulation in the real estate boom in Oakland, the managers of the Oakland Day Nursery are startled by the depressing effect which it is having on the work of that institution. Though a few months ago they were working to raise funds to erect an addition to the present house in Atwood street, and have in the treasury a large fund for that purpose, in the past few weeks this scheme has been given up, at least for the present, and the managers are exerting themselves to solve a startling problem. At the regular monthly meeting of the board yesterday the reports covering the work of the past month were presented. During May, 1906, 209 children were cared for in the day nursery, while the number for May, 1904, was 462. This increase in rents is largely responsible for this condition. Working men and women, who have one or more small children, whom they would like to place in the nursery while they go out to earn a living cannot find in Oakland either small houses or rooms which they can afford to rent. The field has been well canvassed this spring, and the building boom and the raising of rents for houses already erected shuts out the poor people from Oakland, and those women who would take their children to the day nursery cannot afford the car fare from other portions of the city where they are able to secure houses. The nursery property in Oakland is a valuable one, but some of the managers are considering the advisability of moving into the Slopo district or some other district where the work of the institution is needed. In fact the Society for the Improvement of the Poor has already established a nursery, while a somewhat similar work is being conducted under the auspices of the Central chapel of the First Presbyterian church.

Kindergarten Tots Give Play.

"Papa's Letter," a play for children written by Mrs. Grace Mercedes McElroy Jeurs, who is now in Vienna, Austria, was presented yesterday afternoon by the little tots in the kindergarten of the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy. The plot is woven about the members of the Richardson family of 15 children, and some of the situations are exceedingly amusing. The principal role was taken by Miss Mary Murphy, a daughter of John Murphy, the others being the children in the kindergarten class.

The play was but one feature of the exercises conducted yesterday afternoon in the academy in Fifth avenue, which included lessons in familiar botany, gift work and calisthenic drill together with a little French drama produced by Miss Helen McKenna, Miss Ella Dietrick and Gordon Fitzgerald. A recitation was given by Miss Regina Cabanack, assisted by a group of the little children, the poem composed for the occasion being entitled, "Flowers for a Mother." The program opened with music by Miss Manulita Frazere and Miss Hazel Beck, of the academic department.

The prizes won in the different grades this year will be announced on Thursday, June 29, and on the following day the commencement exercises will be conducted in the chapel. The graduates this year will be Miss Stella Bell of Willinsburg; Miss Clara McCaskey of Edgewood park; Miss Marie Bell of Allegheny; Miss Gertrude Floyd of Sewickley; Miss Catherine Carmody and Miss Jessica Harvey of Pittsburgh. On Thursday, June 21, an exhibition of the work of the pupils will be held in the studio from 10 o'clock until 1. The exhibit including water colors, china painting, oils, pen and ink drawings and other forms of decorative work.

Founders' Day at Gusky Home.

Founders' day was observed yesterday afternoon at the J. M. Gusky orphanage and home in Perrysville, avenue, Allegheny, with a good deal of enthusiasm. Messages were received from Mrs. Gusky, who is now in Germany, and from Dr. J. Leonard Levy, who was in Washington, D. C., and could not be present. It was also the annual donation day and contributions of money were received amounting to over $5,000. Among the donors were A. W. Mellon, who gave $250; Emil Winter, $250; H. K. Porter, $100; Mrs. A. W. Rook, $100; Morris Falk, $100; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lavino, $100; Mrs. Hirsch, $100; Mrs. William Thaw, $25, and Mrs. D. G. Stewart, $25, who has also become an annual contributor.

Mrs. P. L. Fleishman, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, Mrs. Berlin, Rosenwanger and Mrs. Josiah Cohen were the reception committee, officiating from 2 o'clock until 6. There were addresses by Judge John Shafer, Judge J. J. Miller, John Francies, postmaster of Allegheny; L. F. Levine and L. Chaplin. The Hon. Josiah Cohen presided. An interesting address was that of Louis Katlin, who was graduated from the home and has become established in business, returning yesterday for the Founders' day reception.

During the past year there have been no changes in the home. The state appropriation this year was but $5,000 and during the past few weeks 50 new members have been added to the board of managers, secured through the efforts of Mrs. Josiah Cohen, Mrs. Bertha Rosenwanger and Mrs. Enoch Rauh. Mrs. Goodwin, who has been a most efficient matron of the home for a number of years, has resigned because of old age and a new superintendent and matron will be secured soon.

Hear from President in Japan.

A letter from Mrs. Frank O. Van Gorder, who is traveling in the Orient, was read at the meeting of the Pittsburgh branch of the International Sunshine society yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clarence M. Wolff, South Highland avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Van Gorder left for the west in the latter part of the winter and a month ago were in Japan. Mrs. Van Gorder wrote the letter to Mrs. C. E. Schmertz. It told of their delightful impressions of Japan during the few hours they had been there and something of their plans for the couple of weeks they would remain there before going on to China. They do not expect to return to Pittsburgh until next November. The meeting was the closing one of the season, the women adjourning until October, when they will meet for their annual election.

Kindergarten Game Festival.

The game festival will be an interesting feature of the commencement season at the Kindergarten college. The festival will be conducted in the Country club, Beechwood boulevard, on Monday afternoon, June 12, at 3:30 o'clock.

The commencement exercises of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Kindergarten college will be held on Wednesday afternoon, June 14, at 4 o'clock, in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music in Dithridge street, Bellefield.

Carnegie Women Close Club Season.

A fitting climax to the series of social affairs given by the Woman's club of Carnegie during the past winter was the annual outing at Calhoun park yesterday. It was given in honor of the retiring president, Mrs. Herbert Johns. The entire club was present.

Last Whist of the Season.

The Pittsburgh Whist league met yesterday afternoon in the Twentieth Century club in Duquesne way, the Allegheny Whist club acting as hostess for the day. It was the last meeting of the league this season.

JUDGE BELIEVES ROGUES ESCAPE

Constables Have an Interesting Time When Amended Returns Are Made to Court.

JOHN CARSON MERCER'S WILL

Judge Kennedy showed his displeasure yesterday when Constable William Sullivan of Rankin reported that he could find no disorder in the borough. The constable had a trying five minutes with the court. Sullivan was one of half a dozen constables who came before the court after having been sent back to amend their returns.

"Your honor," said Sullivan, "I have made an investigation as directed and can find no evidence of any violation of the law in my territory."

Judge Kennedy asked Sullivan why he did not consult with County Detective Jeremiah Lutz, as the latter had reported several violations to the court.

"Detective Lutz and I are not on speaking terms," said Sullivan, "there is a personal grudge between us."

"In the meantime," said Judge Kennedy, "I guess the rogues escape."

Sullivan explained that he did not believe it made much difference, and his return was accepted.

Commissioner Mercer's Will.

The will of John Carson Mercer, the late county commissioner, has been filed for probate. The document is brief and leaves all his estate, which is unestimated, to his widow, Jennie R. Mercer, for life. At her death it is to go to their children. His widow is made executrix and sheels not required to file an inventory or give bond.

John C. Ralston of Wilkinsburg leaves an estate of $36,500 to his family. His daughter Bertha is left $1,000, while a son, John C., is left a like sum in trust, and another son, William, is also given $1,000. The residue of the estate goes to his widow.

Bartolomeo Bascia, an Italian, who died recently in Mercy hospital, leaves an estate of $1,000 to his widow. The will was drawn May 24, while he was on his deathbed.

Samuel Reiter brought suit gainst Jacob Roth, asking $25,000 damages. A verdict of $2,500 was given in the case of John Rusheisen and his wife, Dora, against the Pennsylvania Railroad company. As a fitting close to a markedly successful season of entertainments the Men's Club of the Highland Presbyterian church on Friday, June 9, will present to the members and their lady friends Prof. John A. Brashear in an illustrated lecture, "A Trip to the Moon." The club is now in the second year of its existence. The membership comprises some of the most substantial business and financial men in the Highland district. A boys' brigade was also equipped and inaugurated by the club, in addition to a number of minor church affairs for which it stands sponsor. The lecture Friday, which is free, will be given in the main auditorium of the church, and in addition to Mr. Brashear several well-known musicians will contribute to the program.

ORPHANS HAPPY IN AUTOMOBILES

DO THE PIKE IN LUNA PARK

That automobiles are not nearly as dreadful as they appear, was the earnest conviction of over 400 fagged little orphans as they sought their beds last evening, after a day's joyous outing as the guests o fthe Pittsburgh Automobile club. After spinning through the parks and over the boulevards in the big machines, enjoying the pleasures of Luna park carte blanc, with the kind permission of Fred Ingersoll, and partaking of the luncheon prepared by the ladies of the automobile club, the little unfortunates celebrated one of the most memorable occasions of their young lives.

Eighty-five cars were placed at the disposal of the little ones—more than enough. Seven cars were sent to the Home for Crippled children to accommodate 12 children in order that each might have plenty of room. The appearance of 36 cars on Troy Hill for 150 boys and girls was a history making event for the hill. Liberal provision was also made for the children of the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Protestant Orphans' Home, the United Presbyterian Orphans' home and the Curtis home and the Presbyterian Home for Boys.

The flying flaks, pennants and colors of the various institutions lent zest to the driving as the cars endeavored to pass one another in speed tests that were always held within the bounds of safety.

Reaching Luna park shortly before noon, the children found that the ladies of the club had preceded them and had tastefully arranged tables with floral decorations and had a liberal supply of good things ready for them. Among the ladies were Mrs. T. R. Hartley, Miss Jane Bennett, Miss Margaret Reed, Miss Rebecca Jones, Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Mrs. W. L. Dixon, Mrs. Elliott Rodgers, Mrs. Taylor Allderdice and Mrs. M. R. Jackson.

After luncheon the children visited all the attractions in the park with club members assisting the attendants in piloting the little ones. The little folks were enthusiastic in their delight, while the members of the club found almost the same enthusiasm in their duties as hosts.

The last car was on the return tour shortly before 5 o'clock in the evening, and as the 85 machines started to move away from the park a great crowd collected. So far as is known, not a mishap occurred to mar the day. The children of the Episcopal Home were denied participation owing to the appearance of measles in the home. Arrangements had been made to take 65 children from that institution. It has been proposed that these children be the guests of the club later in the season.

In the Oil fields

There is very little change in conditions west of Butler. Some important tests will get the sand within the next 24 hours and they will have an important bearing on a probable extension of the pool. South of the gusher 900 feet, on the Hartung farm, Eisler & O'Brien shot their test and in the opinion of those who were present it will make a 15-barrel pumper. The wells due in the sand are the Southern Oil Company's No. 1 on the O. K. Waldon 30 acres, 700 feet northeast of the gusher; the Associated Producers Company's test on the Barrickman farm, a 40-acre lease, 600 feet northwest of the gusher, and the Independent Oil Company's test on the Reiber farm, 2,600 feet southwest of the gusher. Should these three come in dusters or small pumpers, it will very nearly settle the status of the Butler pool. The last reported gauge of the Southern Oil Company's (McBride well) was 30 barrels an hour.

In the 50-foot development, west of Mannington, Marion county, W. Va., the Freehold Oil and Gas Company met with an unpleasant surprise at its second test on the Benjamin Grubb farm. It was expected this would come in a good producer, but when drilled through the 30-foot formation failed to find any oil or gas. The first well drilled on this farm came in about a month ago and started at 600 barrels a day. In the Fairview district the South Penn company is cleaning out its No. 26 on the Haught-Walker farm and will have a light pumper. In the Smith field district, in the same county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 10 on the R. W. Peterson farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 1,500 feet with fluid. It will make a light pumper. In the Littleton district, the same company has given its test on the S. A. Carney farm a 60-quart shot and the response was so light as to scarcely make a paying producer.

On Church's Fork, Church district, the Fisher Oil Company has drilled its No. 12 on the John Maple farm through the Maxon sand and has a duster. This is the first failure that the Fisher company has encountered on this farm. It will be drilled to the lower sands. In the Rowells run district, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 15 on the Rebecca Curry farm through the Berea grit and has a duster. This is 800 feet north of No. 11 on the same farm.

Near Elizabeth, Ritchie county, C. E. Gerwig's No. 3 on the James McKay farm has declined to 75 barrels a day. It has not been cleaned out since it was given a shot and is expected to improve.

On the Ohio side, in the Wolf Creek district, Washington county, the Octo Oil Company has completed a test on the Ella Vey Flea farm and has a duster. In the same locality, McComis & Co. has completed a test on the W. S. McComis farm and have a duster. The Pure Oil Producing Company has drilled its No. 10 on the E. H. Palmer farm through the sand and has a show for an eight or 10-barrel pumper.

East of Empire, Jefferson county, A. L. Lowrie & Co. have completed their No. 8 on the John R. Winn farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. In the same district E. H. Dyer & Co. have completed No. 6 on the R. E. Gladden farm and have a show for a very light pumper, not good for more than three barrels a day. Sidney & Co. have completed their test on the G. W. Abrams farm and have a duster in the Berea grit. In the Plum run district, Harrison county, the National Oil Company of Titusville has completed No. 23 on the F. N. Donaldson farm and have a 10-barrel pumper in the Berea grit. In the same district W. C. Kennedy & Co. have completed No. 4 on the Jane Clark farm and have a five-barrel pumper.

Near Georgetown, Beaver county, Groscost & Co. have completed a second test on the D. D. Galley farm and have a duster. In the same district R. Wilson has completed No. 4 on his own farm and has a show for a very small pumper in the Berea grit. In the Hopedale district, Harrison county, the Hamilton Oil Company has completed a test on the C. L. Lysle farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. Near Woodsfield, Monroe county, the House Run Oil Company has drilled No. 4 on the House heirs' farm into the Big Lima and has a show for a 30-barrel producer.

WRECKAGE MARKS WAKE OF TERRIFIC RAINSTORM

Washouts, Broken Wires, Flooded Cellars and Fire Are Some of the Results of the Downpour.

The terrific rainstorm of Tuesday night caused havoc in all sections of Greater Pittsburgh. Lightning was the source of considerable damage, while washouts and crippled transportation service was a general complaint. A panic ensued in the tent of "Japanese Dreamland," a show holding forth at the Homestead carnival, when the storm broke. The wind collapsed the stage setting and there was a rush for the exit. During the crush at the door Miss Ethel McGinnes and Miss Julia Watts, both of Homestead, fainted. No one was seriously injured.

Traction lines in the city and suburbs were heavy sufferers from landslides, washouts and broken wires. All the East End cars were delayed an hour or more. The Charleroi line was compelled to cease operations until noon yesterday, while in Allegheny, Millvale, Braddock, Rankin, Duquesne and nearly all other local points passenger traffic was tediously delayed.

Wilbur McKelvey, clerk in the police department of Emsworth, was caught in the storm, and while attempting to catch his boat, which had blown off, fell and broke his leg. Lightning struck a barn on the farm of William Kletzy, back of Oakmont, and burned it to the ground, causing a loss of $1,000. Lightning struck electric wires leading into the house of A. G. Schmidt, 2802 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, and set fire to the building. The house of Henry Campbell, Virginia avenue, Allegheny, was also struck. A serious washout occurred in Riverview park, Allegheny, when the rush of water from the hillside carried 100 tons of earth on to the boulevard. The zoo was flooded. Cellars in all sections were flooded and dismantled telegraph poles mark the wake of the storm throughout the county.

IN AMUSEMENT WAY.

Two Theaters and Brilliant Luna Park Will Bid for Seekers of Entertainment Next Week.

Jesse James and his gang of outlaws who terrorized Missouri have been the theme of several stage productions, but none of them has had the dramatic worth, elaborate stage settings or refined effect of "The James Boys in Missouri," which comes to the Bijou next week. Other plays built about the varied career of those bandits have been on the blood and thunder order with considerable coarseness introduced, but the present production, which is constructed with much cleverness and no little literary ability, and staged with a sumptuousness never seen in these parts before, brings a good, clean melodramatic play.

Luna Park is attracting great crowds both afternoon and evening, and everyone is delighted with the beauty of this delightful pleasure resort. The open air vaudeville performances will be a leading feature throughout the season, with a change of bill weekly. Next week the stellar feature will be Bauseman's incline dive. This consists of a thrilling and hazardous dash down an inclined ladder, finishing with a headlong dive into a tak of water 60 feet below. The Flying Rathbuns will do some clever stunts in aerial casting, and Belle Stone, the woman who has astonished all Europe, will give her performance in an aerial globe. Free band concerts are given afternoon and evening.

The regular vaudeville season will close on Saturday night at the Alvin theater, to which house the Grand bill was transferred this week. Only three days more remain in which to see Olive May and John W. Albaugh, Jr., in their delightful comedy, "The Inspector From Kansas," and De Bevier Opera company, Quinlan and Mack and other popular entertainers. The fall season of high class vaudeville will open at the Grand Opera house in August, and many new novelties will be seen here for the first time. Manager Davis has received word from Mr. Fiber, his European agent, that he has contracted with a number of London and Parisian features that have never been in this country. They will be seen here during the fall and winter. This has been the most successful season in the history of high class vaudeville in Pittsburgh, and the prospects for the future are very bright.

The sale of seats opens this morning for the light opera season at the Nixon, which commences at that house next Monday with the Carleton Opera Company in Stange & Edwards' cyclonic military success, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." This is the first time that this opera has been presented at popular prices—25, 50 and 75 cents. Messrs. Stange & Edwards are the joint authors of dainty "Dolly Varden," Mme. Schumann-Heink's latest opera, "Love's Lottery," and Mr. Stange was collaborator in the recent success, "Piff, Paff, Pouf," which ran all last summer at the Casino theater, New York.

COAL GOES OUT TODAY.

Barge Water Will Be Realized This Forenoon and Shipment Scheduled.

Barge water will be realized in the rivers this morning and it is expected the Ohio at Davis island will reach a nine-foot stage. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company will get out the Josh Cook, Mariner, Joe Walton and Sam Brown, with 22 barges each, and the Iron Age, Coal City and Sam Clark, with 12 light boats and seven barges each. The Jutte Company will send out the Charley Jutte, Crescent and G. W. Thomas. The United Coal Company will send the Helen White, W. H. Flint and Diamond. The Budd Coal Company will get out the Frank Gilmore. This is the first coal run for a couple of weeks.

The rise materially helped the packet boats yesterday. The Queen City, from Cincinnati, had laid up at Rochester, unable to get any further. Yesterday morning she came into this city. She had a big passenger list and a lot of freight. The Columbia got in yesterday morning from Morgantown. She had been tied up during the heavy storm Tuesday night and was a number of hours late.

The J. C. Risher of the River Coal Company's line is out after a general overhauling.

The Inland Queen took out the steamfitters who are holding their national convention here, last night.

The Bessie Smith will be in today from Parkersburg.

The Lorena will get in tomorrow from Zanesville and the Greenland will arrive from Charleston.

Col. B. H. Ruffner, United States engineer at Cincinnati, has sent out notices of a hearing in the Ohio river bridge case at Point Pleasant, July 6.

Preparations for the convention of the waterways interests of the United States at Cincinnati June 29 and 30 are well under way. Notices have been sent out inviting delegates to be present. The intention is to organize one big national body which will take up the work of waterway improvement in a systematic manner and help create public sentiment in favor of these improvements.

The big Pittsburgh towboat, W. W. O'Neil of the River Coal Company, struck a snag in the canal at Louisville yesterday morning and tore a hole 10 feet long in her bottom. The damage will not be more than a couple of thousand dollars, if so much. The boat was not endangered by the accident.

Judge Parker May Be Here.

Ex-Judge Alton B. Parker, the last Democratic candidate for president, may be here today to act as referee in a suit brought by the Carbor Steel company against New York parties over a disputed bill. The case is the one indirectly responsible for the deaths of Victor L. Crabbe, Paul Bright and the Andersons, father and son, who were killed in the Harrisburg dynamite train wreck. They had been to New York to discuss the case and were returning on the fatal train.

BARNETT RE-ELECTED.

Present Colonel of Tenth Again Chosen. Crago Is Lieutenant Colonel.

The line officers of the Tenth Infantry, National Guard of Pennsylvania, at the Monongahela house last night unanimously re-elected James Elder Barnett colonel of that organization. Maj. Thomas S. Crago of Waynesburg was elected lieutenant-colonel and Capt. Richard Coulter, Jr., of Greensburg, was promoted to major.

The election was conducted by Col. William E. Thompson, Fourteenth infantry, assisted by Capt. Murray Livingston, regimental quartermaster, and Capt. Charles C. McGovern of company B, who acted as tellers. Capt. James Ganz of company D, Connellsville, nominated Col. Barnett. The ballot was cast by Capt. James A. Loar of company E, Mt. Pleasant.

After thanking the officers of the regiment for their vote of confidence, Col. Barnett said in part: "I would sooner be the colonel of the Tenth infantry than hold the highest military office in Pennsylvania. The Tenth infantry has held up the flag in peace and war, and it has shed its blood on a foreign soil to fly that flag on a downtrodden land and bring peace and prosperity to its people." He will reappoint his present staff.

First Library Roof Garden.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Special.)—The first library roof garden ever constructed will be thrown open to the public Saturday, on the occasion of the opening of the new Rivington street branch of the New York public library. It is about 40 feet square, and anyone who desires to go to the roof to read may take his book or periodical there and do so.

WHITE'S VAUCAIRE TONIC

not only contains the GENUINE GALEGA but other necessary indigredients that act with genuine galega to accomplish the desired result in a quick and sure manner. Buy White's Vaucaire Tonic and you take no chances.

CAUTION As there are imitations on the market we would caution you to be sure and ask your Dealer for White's Vaucaire Tonic and accept no substitute.

It is highly important that the Galega used in this remedy be of the very best. White's Vaucaire Tonic rounds out shallow or shrunken parts, and makes thin, scrawny persons

Plump and Rosy.

This remedy produces great strength and builds up rundown, careworn people. White's Vaucaire Tonic is pronounced by leading physicians, as well as by every person who has ever used it, to be the most wonderful remedy in the world for developing the bust.

W. T. TREDWAY,

MARKET VALUES RALLIED ON VERY LIGHT TRADING

One of the Dullest Days of the Year on the New York Exchange—Prices Averaged Higher on the Local Board.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Yesterday was one of the dullest days of the year on the New York stock exchange. Despite the dullness, however, and the lower quotations received from London, the tone of the market was firmer, and as a rule prices closed higher.

Amalgamated Copper opened 1½ per cent higher at 70½, but that proved to be the highest price of the day. There was a quick reaction to 77¾, followed by a sharp recovery, and the stock closed at a net gain of 1 per cent. The impression prevails in Wall street that the Boston bear party is short a large line of Amalgamated, and there were speculative efforts on the part of the bulls to feed it. The recent annual report, very glowing inferences not justified by the text. The United States Steel issues were strong and closed 1 per cent higher for the day. American Steel Foundries preferred also recovered some of its previous loss, while the remainder of the industrial list ruled dull but steadier.

The tractions were helped by the action of the directors of the Interborough Rapid Transit in declaring a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, placing that stock on an 8 per cent basis, as compared with a 7 per cent basis for the last previous dividend. Metropolitan Street Railway rallied to 120¼ and Brooklyn Rapid Transit to 64, but each closed only ⅛ per cent higher for the day.

In the railroad list the grangers were the strongest stocks, while it was entirely logical in view of the reported improvement in the condition of the crops, which improvement was likewise reflected in the decline of 2 cents in July wheat in the Chicago market. Atchison rallied to 80¼, St. Paul to 178, Rock Island to 28¾ and Union Pacific to 122¼. Among the low-priced issues Southern Railway was active and strong, advancing to 31½ and closing at a net gain of 1 per cent. Louisville & Nashville closed 1¼ per cent higher. The strength of these stocks was partly due to improvement in cotton crop news. The movement in Southern Railway common, however, was purely speculative, and was said to be participated in by London. Missouri, Kansas & Texas issues were also strong and higher on moderate buying by foreigners. The highest prices of the day were scored late in the afternoon, and while there were reactions from the top, the close showed gains for every important stock.

The activity in Japanese bonds on the New York exchange, taken in connection with advices from St. Petersburg and Berlin, was construed by the street as meaning that some definite peace proposals were about to be considered or were already under consideration. It is doubtful, however, if a speedy declaration of peace would have more than passing effect upon the stock market in this country. It would probably relieve all apprehension on the continent, and there might be a little spurt of activity in Wall street similar to that which followed the recent naval victory; but until there is assurance of peace in high financial circles in New York, and until the public fails to see in its morning paper fresh evidence of friction in the management of one of our largest financial institutions, a bull movement in the stock market is out of the question.

The call loan market remained dull and easy at 2 to 2½ per cent, the final loan being at 2¼ per cent.

Crop Expert Snow, whose reports are second only in public interest to the bulletins issued by the government, estimated that the official report due on Saturday will show an average condition of winter wheat of 90 per cent and a probable increase of about 2 per cent in the acreage of spring wheat over last year. The maintenance of present favorable conditions until harvest would mean the largest yield of wheat ever raised in this country.

The great bulk of the business on the Pittsburg stock exchange consisted of Ohio Tonopah, that stock contributing 21,100 shares to the total of 23,900 shares. It rallied from 35 to 38 cents a share and closed at 37 cents bid. Lustre Mining rallied to 21, a new high record, while Tonopah Extension sold at $4.60, a decline of 5 cents a share. Pittsburgh Brewing common was the most active of the industrial list, that stock being in good demand at 26. The preferred stock was higher at 47, and the 6-per cent bonds advanced ¾ per cent to 114¾. Independent Brewing common declined to 15 and recovered to 16. There were no sales of the preferred. Pittsburgh Coal common sold at 17¾ to 18. The preferred was fairly active and weak, declining to 75 and closing at that price bid. Crucible Steel common recovered to 10, sales and bid, and the United States Steel issues were firmer. Pittsburgh Oil & Gas sold at 66, and closed at 65 bid, 67 asked. Philadelphia Company sold at 42¾. There were no sales of the other gas and oil stocks. A small lot of Westinghouse Electric first preferred sold at 85½, a decline of 9½ points from the last previous sale, but it closed at 89½ bid for quotable use. The second preferred was unchanged at 82.

THE MONEY MARKET.

There is very little change in local money market conditions. Stock brokers report that their requirements are now at a minimum, owing to the dullness in the market and the liquidation of securities. Bankers continue to quote 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, June 7.—The demand for money was quiet in the market today. Discounts were fairly steady. Trading on the stock exchange was inactive owing to the uneasiness regarding the political outlook on the continent and the nearness of the settlement. Consols and kindred securities were firm on the cheapness of money. Americans, influenced by the Equitable Society trouble and the weakness of Amalgamated, opened lower but recovered fractionally on profesional support. They ruled dull and after many fluctuations closed above the lowest quotations of the day. Foreigners generally were steady. Japanese were inclined to improve. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 103¾. Consols for money, 90 7-16; consols for account, 90 9-16; bar silver steady, 26¼d per ounce; money, 1¼@1½ per cent; discount rate, short bills, 2@2 1-16 per cent; three months' bills, 2@2 1-16 per cent.

PARIS, June 7.—General weakness prevailed on the bourse during the earlier trading today, owing to uneasiness in regard to the foreign situation. Later, however, there was an improvement and at the close the market was calm. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 86.90 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 408. Three per cent rentes, 89 francs 70 centimes for the account; exchange on London, 25 francs 18¼ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, June 7.—Trading on the boerse today generally was quiet.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Today's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption, shows: Available cash balance, $132,409,462; gold, $70,328,801; silver, $28,564,452; United States notes, $18,979,218; treasury notes of 1890, $36,236; national bank notes, $18,517,936; total receipts this day, $1,798,848; total receipts this month, $11,294,065; total receipts this year, $506,767,175; total expenditures this day, $1,270,000; total expenditures this month, $8,960,969; total expenditures this year, $541,082,762; deposits in national banks, $83,466,804.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
Pittsburgh Brewing securities firmer and closed higher.	One of the dullest days of the year on the stock exchange.
Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to and closed at 75.	Sales only 336,300 shares stock and $2,285,000 bonds.
Crucible Steel common rallied to and closed at 10 bid.	Tone of market firmer and prices closed higher all around.
Electric and the oil and gas stocks were dull but steady.	Amalgamated Copper and United States Steels scored a net gain of 1 per cent each.
Ohio Tonopah sold to the extent of 21,100 shares at 35 to 38 cents.	Dividend on Interborough Rapid Transit increased to an 8 per cent basis.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Crucible Steel has now entered upon the last quarter of its fiscal year, and taking the business of the past nine months as a basis for calculation, it is estimated that the earnings for 1905 will be between $1,900,000 and $2,000,000. There is no probability of a resumption of dividends in October, but it is said there is a possibility of dividends in January next, and if business keeps up to the present average there is a reasonable certainty of dividends in April, 1906. When the present management took hold a drastic cut in inventories was made, which contributed to the impairment of capital shown in the last annual report. If present average prices hold the appraisement of inventories shown in the next annual report will probably help to make good the impairment. Meanwhile the company is in easy financial condition and has not been compelled to issue any of the bonds authorized last year. There were no sales of the preferred stock on the exchange yesterday, but the common was moderately active and firm at 10 bid at the close.

The 21,100 shares Ohio Tonopah traded in yesterday made a fine showing abroad, but the money value of the entire lot was less than $8,000.

There is a touch of the pathetic in the following communication addressed to this department, and the worst of it is that very little consolation can be extended to the "Poor Investor" who signs it, because there is very little probability of a resumption of dividends for a long time to come:

"Financial Editor: Over two years ago, when National Biscuit preferred common was selling at 859 a share and the stock was paying 5 per cent, then raised to 6 per cent, I bought 500 shares as an investment. I counted upon the income to pay my life insurance, etc. The stock has since dropped from $32 to $19 a share. I feel very bad about it, as I cannot afford to lose that much money. It took me years to work for that money. I hate to say it, but my heart is nearly broke. Please tell me, do you think I will ever get my money back? If I could get only $20 a share I would be satisfied."

The foregoing will help to explain the current dullness in the local stock market. Scores and hundreds of investors bought Fireproofing, Crucible Steel preferred, and the American Window Glass common and preferred issues for the dividends they paid, feeling that they were getting an investment that would return a steady income. A comparatively few took their loss when dividends were suspended, but the majority held on in the hope of a resumption of dividends or of a good rally in the market. They have not only lost their income and a large part of their principal, but they have been discouraged from entering the market for other securities.

International Silver Company directors have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 1.

American Beet Sugar Company directors have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred stock, payable July 1, to stock of record at close of business June 17.

Laclede Gas directors have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on the preferred stock and the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the common stock. Both are payable June 15.

The Maryland Coal Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent and an extra dividend of 1 per cent on its preferred stock, payable June 30 to stock of record of June 17.

The directors of Atchison have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on the preferred stock.

The Interborough Rapid Transit Company directors yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 30 to stock of record of June 12. The last previous dividend was 1¾ per cent.

The management of the National Lead Company fully expects that the stockholders will carry out the recommendations of the directors to increase the capital stock to the extent of $30,000,000 at the special meeting called for June 26. It is a notable fact that this is the first time the company has made any effort to do any financing on a pretentious scale since it was formed in 1891. The stock issued at the outset was $10,000,000, half preferred and half common, and it has remained unchanged ever since. Since the company's inception it has more than maintained its working capital, and increased the profit and loss surplus from nothing to over $2,000,000, at the same time paying regular dividends of 7 per cent on the preferred stock and an occasional dividend on the common stock. The increase of $20,000,000 in the capital stock of the National Lead Company may be regarded as the beginning of a new era with the company. While it is not stated, it is understood that a portion of the new stock will be used to acquire control of the United Lead Company, for which negotiations have been in progress for three or four years past. A portion of the stock will be retained in the company's treasury and will probably be used at an opportune time to secure control of other independent lead concerns in addition to the United Lead Company, of which there are six or eight in number, controlling some popular brands of lead products. The management which the National Company has had will be continued after the merger plan has been consummated, as it is a part of the plan that the National Company shall retain its identity, with President Cole as its official head.

The following table shows the issue price, the high and low prices recorded since issuance, the price Friday, May 26, before Admiral Togo's great naval victory, and the highest price since May 26 of the Japanese bonds in the New York market:

Issue.	Issue price.	Lowest since issuance.	Highest since issuance.	Price May 26.	Highest price since May 29.
1st 6s	93½	89	101¼	98	101
2d 6s	88	89½	101¼	96	98
4½	87½	86	91	86	88

The above table shows that the victory produced a rise of 3½ points in the first series of 6s, 4¼ in the case of the second and 5 points in the 4½s, in the case of the latter issue the effect of the victory was to establish a new high record, the highest previous being 88½.

John W. Gates was quoted as saying that he believed Amalgamated Copper, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and United States Steel preferred would be the leaders in an upward movement in the market.

Savings deposits of the Chicago banks continue to increase, and stories that the teamsters' strike has greatly cut into them do not appear to be founded on facts. The savings deposits of all the Chicago banks, taken from official reports as of the opening of business May 31, are now $156,878,753, a new high record. At the last previous call, on March 13, the savings deposits of the banks were $152,152,065. The gain is $4,190,657, or 2 per cent for the two and one-half months. This is fully up to the usual rate of increase.

Gen. Charles Miller, president of the American Steel Foundries Company, was quoted as saying that nobody had been authorized to make the statement that the Steel Foundries directors would not declare a dividend in July. No such determination has been arrived at by the directors.

New York Central reports gross earnings for May increased $767,502. From July 1 increased $5,126,230.

Gross earnings of Southern Railway for May increased $229,250.

Gross earnings of Missouri Pacific for May increased $199,000.

One Wall street commission house with western connections was a prominent buyer yesterday, taking 10,000 shares Copper, 10,000 Steel preferred and 5,000 shares Union Pacific.

Standard Investment Bonds.

The Colonial Trust Company, No. 317 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., has for sale a variety of bonds yielding the purchaser from 3½ to 6 per cent, which it recommends as desirable investments. Inquire of Alexander C. Thompson, manager bond department.

PIG IRON OUTPUT IS MUCH SMALLER

Furnaces Being Closed Down by the Corporation and the Independents.

The restriction of the output of pig iron by the closing down of furnaces, both United States Steel and independent, continues the most marked feature of the iron and steel business. As usual, the Corporation is closing those that most badly need repairs, and second, those so situated as to operate less economically than the others.

The prices of Bessemer iron show no marked change. Whether the future will bring a serious reduction is a mooted question, the producer and consumer taking opposite sides on the question. It is not believed generally that any serious declines will result and that any deviating from $13 50 will be but temporary and only in certain cases, as the majority of the furnaces are well supplied with orders.

That the United States Steel Corporation is looking forward to a very busy season is shown by the pressure being exerted to move ore down the lakes and to the furnaces. It is expected there will be need of every exertion to bring down enough ore to keep the furnaces supplied during the entire year.

The elimination of the so-called "specials" in the prices of the finished lines has had no effect so far, and is not expected to do so. The prices stand in a number of cases higher than that agreed upon in the associations' regulations.

The majority of the finishing mills are busy, and while there are some idle plants, large adjustments and need for repairs is the explanation. The repairing being done now is caused primarily by the realization that a year of heavy work is before the plants and they must be in good shape to go through it.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware market continues active, as is usual at this time of the year, the volume of business showing a very slight increase over the same period of last year, orders coming in freely from salesmen on the road and from the trade generally. The quantities of season goods still moving out show a continued demand on the part of retailers and consumers for these lines. The season, starting late, will doubtless not come to its height for a short time yet, as the prompt is good for a very large sale of such goods as refrigerators, lawn mowers, ice cream freezers, hammocks, screens and general lines that are used at this time of the year. A very good business continues in nails and wire, the demand being for prompt shipment and immediate use, showing that stocks in the hands of retailers are very light. Window glass business continues to move along in good shape, the demand being for stocks and assortments that will keep lines in shape for summer trade. Prices on window glass seem to be tending upward with the coming of hot weather and the consequent shutting down of fires. Business in pieceglass and bicycle sundries continues very good, the season being at its height, and the demand being correspondingly heavy. Prices in all lines continue firm, there being no recent changes. The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations:

Columbia pocket knives, discount, 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 4 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base, No. 28, $2 35 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount, 50 and 10 per cent; sash weights, a ton, $37; window glass, first three brackets 90 and 25 per cent; list October 1, 1904; above third bracket, 90 and 15 off list October 1, 1904; Albion sewing machines, discount, 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion gas stoves, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; fire shovels and pokers, 40 and 10 per cent.

DEADLOCK IN PIG IRON SHOWS LITTLE RELIEF

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say: What is almost a deadlock between buyers and sellers of pig iron continues, the only fair degree of activity being in the Chicago district. The absence of a demand for pig iron by the large steel companies is causing pressure upon the market on the part of merchant furnaces which usually supply them and which are now accumulating metal.

The market for steel is easier, and some of the interests who have had little to offer in the past are now hunting for business. A moderate amount of additional tonnage has come up in plates and shapes.

In the lighter lines the shading of prices continues and is becoming more general. Black sheets are sold below $2 40 for No. 28, and some business in iron bars has been secured only by concessions. In the wire trade there has been a slight improvement in some quarters.

Our blast furnace statistics show that production for May, a month of 31 days, was 1,968,483 tons, or the largest on record, that basing the result of the impetus of the enormous capacity with which we entered the month the production capacity, however, fell off during the month from 452,083 tons on May 1 to 442,892 tons on June 1. It is well known that during the last week additional furnaces have stopped work.

On the other hand, stocks in the hands of the merchant furnaces have increased by 83,000 tons. This looks as though general consumption of pig iron had declined during May, but it must not be forgotten that consumers are forcing the producers to bear the burden, and are drawing down their own reserves to the lowest point.

FLOUR MARKET HOLDS FIRM, BUT WHEAT DROPS

Dealers Are Uncertain and None Know What Today May Bring Forth.

Although wheat took a drop of 2 cents yesterday, flour remained firm, and there is no indication that it would follow down. This simply shows the uncertain character of the trade. There is no great amount of business being done. Everything is from hand to mouth, and all buyers are prepared to stand from under in the event of a grand tumble.

Sugar is believed to be at as low a figure as it will reach this summer. Dealers profess to be unable to understand the reduction, with the canning season about to open. This best sugar season of the year is just about to begin.

In green goods and fruits there was nothing out of the ordinary. Strawberries show easier. Green and wax beans are both marked down. There is an abundance of green corn, home-raised strawberries, cherries and lots of blackberries. The markets are filled with all sorts of good things and trade has shown a material improvement as the prices are now getting to a point where the common class of buyers can indulge.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 17 cars hay, 16 cars oats, 9 cars corn, 2 cars straw. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 car oats, 1 car corn. Baltimore & Ohio, 8 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car straw.

Light receipts had a tendency to strengthen the local market yesterday, and there were no changes in quotations. The stock of low-grade hay is still heavy, and the price is correspondingly low. Best grades are in demand at a good figure. Straw is in heavy demand, the receipts being barely sufficient to meet the demand. Oats are firmer and the general market outlook is good.

WHEAT DECLINES ON HEAVY PROFIT-TAKING

Ideal Weather for Crops Is the Chief Selling Factor—Corn and Oats Are Down.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 7.—Almost ideal weather for crops started heavy profit-taking in the wheat market today. The result was a decline of 2@c in the price of the July delivery. Corn is off 3c. Provisions show a loss of 5 to 15c.

From an early start the wheat market developed into extreme weakness. Despite a firm tone at Liverpool opening prices here were at a slight loss, July being a shade to 1c lower at 87@87½c. Weather in the United States was the chief influence. While some apprehension was caused by rain in Oklahoma, temperatures throughout the southwest were such lower, thus dispelling a fear of premature ripening. The wet weather in the northwest caused a moderate demand and resulted in July advancing to 88@88½c. The brightening prospects of an abundant harvest, however, brought out numerous selling orders from many operators who had bought yesterday. As trading progressed the selling increased in volume and a general profit-taking caused a severe break in prices. While rains are not entirely hostile there were practically no damage reports of any consequence. One of the principal bearish influences was a report by a Chicago crop expert estimating a loss of bottle over two points in the condition of winter wheat during May. This was a less decline than generally expected. In regard to spring wheat the authority estimated an increase of nearly 2 per cent in acreage. The condition of the crop, it was claimed, is excellent. A break of 2 to 3 cents in the price of wheat at Minneapolis gave emphasis to unfavorable reports on the outlook in the northwest. Another factor that induced selling was the decline of 3c in the price of spot wheat at Kansas City. For July the lowest point of the day here was reached at 85½c. Final quotations were at 85½c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 30,200 bushels. Primary receipts were 780,000 bushels, compared with 363,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 146 cars against 256 cars last week and 137 cars a year ago.

Weakness of wheat affected the corn market causing considerable profit taking. A prominent trader led the bear forces in a raid on the market and before the decline could be checked prices had dropped nearly 1 cent. Support by several influential houses somewhat caused a recovery of much of the loss. Prominent of the cash article had a strengthening influence on speculative prices. The market closed easy at a moderate loss. July opened like last at 50½c, sold between 51½@50½c and closed at 50¾c. Local receipts were 105 cars, with 41 of contract grade.

A firm tone prevailed in the oats market early in the session, but prices soon yielded to weakness of other grains. A feature of trading was selling of July by cash brokers. The market closed at about the lowest point of the day. July opened unchanged to ⅛ a shade higher at 31⅛c, sold off to 31c and closed at 31@31¼c. Local receipts were 107 cars.

Provisions were weak with a small volume of trading. A decline of 5c in the price of live hogs, following liberal receipts, gave the market a weak start and the break in the price of lards increased the weakness. At the close weather map was down 12@12½c for lards and 15@17½c for ribs and pork. Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 1 car; corn, 275 cars; oats, 148 cars; hogs, 25,000 head.

The Great Help Finders and Situation Getters

Gazette want ads bring returns every time. Housekeepers, stores, public and factories use them and find they hit the mail on the head always. The Gazette is the newspaper you see everywhere.

Railroad News.

The next meeting of the Central Passenger association will be held Wednesday of next week at Put-in-Bay. One of the matters to come up for consideration is the report of the special committee of arbitrators appointed to investigate the differential dispute between the Michigan Central and competing lines. The meeting will also discuss the question of a new angle of the differential fight which has to do with business to Ashtabula park arising from a question raised by the Wabash. It will cost the Central Passenger association several thousand dollars to determine whether the Michigan Central is to have a differential privilege or whether it is to have a half differential and half standard privilege. This grows out of the fact that the board of arbitration consists of three men, each of whom gets $800 a day for his services. These arbitrators have held court for two days and have worked on the cases at other times. The two days' session brought the cost of the hearing up to $1,800. All subsequent meetings will cost $900 a day.

Rules for Handling Explosives.

The Pennsylvania lines officials have issued a circular of instruction as an additional safeguard in the handling of cars containing shipments of benzine, benzia, camphene, coal tar oil, crude oil, turpentine, powder, high explosives, fireworks and other combustible and inflammable material. The instructions provide for placing special cards on the sides of all cars so loaded, reading "Inflammable; keep lights and fires away." When switching such cars they are not to be handled without engine attached and special attention is to be given to hot box

TWO DOWNTOWN SALES ARE MADE

Henry Tranter Pays $60,000 for 107 Water Street, and 109 Market Street Brings $30,000.

OIL MAN BUYS $55,000 SITE

Downtown property is keeping up a rather remarkable degree of activity considering the season. Two more deals were announced yesterday and at least four more are under cover. Through the Land Trust Company the property of Louis W. Dalzell at 107 Water street, near Ferry street, has been sold to Henry Tranter for $60,000. It is between the Scaife holdings and the J. A. Dalzell lot, and is improved with a brick building of little value. The lot is 22x160 feet, extending through to Floral avenue.

The other sale downtown was that of the W. Nelson holdings at 109 Market street, which was handled by the Commonwealth Real Estate Company. This property brought $30,000, which is at the rate of $1,036 a front foot, the lot being 18x70 feet. The buyer is Jacob Tannenbaum, who takes the property for an investment and expects to improve the lot with a modern business structure as soon as the present leases expire. It is now occupied by an old three-story brick house used for a store.

Buys Residence Site for $55,000.

Judging by the steady buying of fine residence sites in the East End Pittsburgh is to get many fine homes in the near future. The last purchase was made through George E. Siebert, who bought for Dr. Emmett Queen of Gudley & Queen, oil operators, the frontage of Wallace H. Rowe and John Eaton in Ellsworth avenue, Twentieth ward, for $55,000. The site measures 200x225 feet and is between Bidwell street and Morewood avenues. It adjoins the home of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker on the east, and the property of H. L. Mason on the west. Although no definite plans have been decided on, it is the intention of Mr. Queen to build a costly residence on the site this year.

The deed was registered yesterday for the Hotel Lincoln title to it going from the Lincoln company to A. L. Richmond, Jr., the consideration in the deed was the same as announced a few weeks ago, $875,000. The lot is 48x160 feet.

Page Brothers & Co. yesterday closed the sale of the former Lanahan residence in Bartlett street to John F. Scott, the consideration being $25,000. The purchase was made from Peter W. Lynn, who got the property several months ago.

The John R. Ewing company and the Aronson Realty Company handled the sale of the 20 Mellanders houses in Home and Forty-seventh streets, Seventeenth ward, which was announced in The Gazette Tuesday. The exact consideration as shown in the articles of agreement was $35,000, and the houses have a rental value of $5,100 a year.

Facts and Theories Don't Agree.

Allegheny property seems to keep selling well in spite of the published statements that prices there are all going to the dogs and no man of sense and money will even look at North Side realty today as an investment on account of the possibility of the Greater Pittsburgh bill being declared unconstitutional. Men who actually have some pretty good knowledge of Allegheny prices and values were roundly combating the assertions that there is no money to be made in Allegheny realty, and say prices are not only not receding, but they are advancing steadily to the point where they belong in comparison with prices asked for similar properties in Pittsburgh. Yesterday four more sales were announced in the First ward as follows:

The Mansion House Things at 213 Craig street were sold for $22,000, the reputed buyer being Minnis L. McElhaney. The lot is 27.5 x110 feet at the southwest corner of Craig and Ann streets, and is improved with a two-story brick store on the corner and two three-story dwellings in Ann street.

A local manufacturer has bought the Aviziger property, 40x75 feet, at 612-616 West Lacock street, for $17,000. This lot is improved with three frame houses, all facing in Lacock street.

C. I. Shannon and A. L. Pearson have closed the sale of their lots, 54x66 feet, at the northwest corner of West Lacock and Corry streets, for $17,500. Five frame houses stand on the lots, which were bought by a Pittsburgh firm as a site for a modern building.

H. O. Neville has bought from H. A. Gibson 608 West Lacock street, a frame house on 15x74 feet, for $7,488.

Popular Plants Again Moving.

The La Belle View allotment at Steubenville, formerly owned by the Duquesne Realty Company and now the property of the Bankers Trust Company, is coming into notice again because of renewed activity. Last Saturday the company, of which W. A. Roberts and J. A. Laughlin of this city are prominent members, sold 19 lots in the plan. The Ohio Valley Building and Trust Company has been organized to develop the property and is now building 16 brick houses to cost from $3,000 to $5,00 each.

Builders on Squirrel Hill is picking up rapidly nowadays and there is likely to be considerable activity there this summer. Dr. J. R. Morrow has started three $10,000 houses at the corner of McCully avenue and the Beechwood boulevard. Thomas Rodgers is building an $8,000 house in Burchfield street. Messrs. Hunter & Harper have begun work on good houses at Shady avenue and Burchfield street, and Robert S. Mattern is building a $15,000 residence in Darlington road, near Shady avenue. These are some of the last houses started and there are about a dozen residences on the hill that are farther along.

Four good houses are being built on the Clearview plan of the Mt. Lebanon Land and Trust Company. Ross Black and Robert Kelly have two $10,000 houses nearly completed and facing on the Washington pike. William Wade has started a residence in the same thoroughfare and Travis O. Jones has started an $8,000 house on Cedar boulevard.

James F. Bialr, lately connected with the John F. Ewing company, is now a salesman for the Land Trust company. Mr. Bialr was formerly with the Duquesne Realty Company and the Beechwood Improvement Company, limited.

DREDGING FOR BODIES.

Disappearance of Oakmont Young Woman and Her Child Gives Cause for Alarm.

The borough authorities of Oakmont are dredging the Allegheny river for the bodies of Jessie Bissett, an operator for the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company at Wilkinsburg, and her three-year-old daughter, Vocletti.

The young woman has been missing since Sunday. She has been making her home with a family named Roney at Verona. It is said that she was seen late Sunday afternoon standing on the traction line bridge with her little daughter, weeping. Both are said to have been bareheaded and wore no wraps.

MORE SPOTTED FEVER.

Latest Cases Make Nine Now Being Treated in Pittsburgh.

Another case of spotted fever was reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday. The latest victim is Helma Schwarzman of 2503 Penn avenue. There are now nine cases in the city, five being treated at the Municipal hospital. Five cases of typhoid fever were reported yesterday. Last week two cases of cerebro-spinal meningitis, 61 of typhoid fever, 31 of scarlet fever and five of diphtheria were reported.

Out of a total of 122 deaths in Pittsburgh last week 28 of the dead were less than a year old and 26 were between 1 and 10. The total number of deaths was the same as for the corresponding week last year. The principal causes were: pneumonia, 13; consumption, 9; scarlet fever, 7; typhoid fever, 5; heart disease, 6; violence, 9.

SLAVONIC SOCIETY TO MOVE TO HOMESTEAD

The Slavonic Beneficial Society of America is planning to establish headquarters at Homestead, and is securing options on desirable building sites on which to erect a building to be used as the home for the supreme officers. The building to be erected is expected to be the finest in Homestead, and will cost about $100,000. It is to be a three-story structure of stone and brick and will contain rooms and offices for all of the officials of the society, as well as a large meeting hall. The headquarters of the society are now located in New York. The supreme officers of the society will meet in Homestead on June 27 to complete the purchase of the property.

Another Plan for Amalgamation.

The executive board of L. A. 300, Window Glass Workers, left yesterday for Cleveland to meet the executive board of the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers. Simon Burns, the newly elected president of the K. of L. workers, does not approve of the agreement to amalgamate the two bodies and will substitute another plan, which he says will be more beneficial and less expensive.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

The Young People's branch of the Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyteries met yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church and completed the Christmas box of supplies for the children's orphanage at Kolapuhr, India. Dolls, toys and many useful articles, including soap, to the value of $1,200, were included in the box.

The second annual convention of the Priests' Eucharist league of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Roman Catholic church met yesterday in St. Augustine's church, Lawrenceville. A sermon was preached by the Rev. Father Francis J. Egar, and the Rev. Father Thomas J. Colon delivered an address.

The delegates to the annual convention of steamfitters yesterday heard reports of subcommittees. The constitution reported for changing the per capita tax rates and the adoption of a uniform working card. This afternoon the delegates will go to the ball game in a party, and tonight they will attend a banquet to be held in Old City hall.

Yesterday morning a chip basket containing a baby boy about one week old was found hanging from a nail on the front porch of the residence of Frank Bongert of Bell avenue, McKees Rocks. The infant was sent to a foundling asylum.

The tenth anniversary of the Passavant Memorial Home for Epileptics will be observed today in the institution at Rochester, Pa. Exercises will be held this afternoon with the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan of the Third Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue, presiding. The Rev. Thomas Swan of New Brighton, and the Rev. Dr. Alonzo J. Turkle of Allegheny will deliver addresses.

The Salvation Army is endeavoring to raise $15,500 by popular subscription for the purchase of a home in Bellevue for use as a rescue home for fallen women. The present home on Grandview avenue, Mt. Washington, has become too small for the work.

Safety Director Moore yesterday received a communication from the Pittsburgh Railways Company to the effect that 12 street cars had been fitted out with fenders to be submitted for inspection by the city authorities. Twelve more cars will be fitted up in a few days, making 24 different styles of fenders the traction company will have on trial.

Director Moore yesterday reinstated Bernard McGlay, former police inspector of the Fifth district. McGlay will be given a position as sergeant at the Central station.

HOW PEOPLE GROW.

Peculiarities of Food Processes in Human Beings.

Starch, which serves in the nutrition of almost all living creatures, is not directly assimilable, and in the higher organisms it undergoes various transformations before it can be absorbed. It first meets the enzyme—chiefly ptyalin—in the saliva, and then other ferments in the pancreatic juice, and is thus changed into Maltose, a food directly and immediately suitable for the building-up of the human system. "Malta-Vita" contains from eight to ten per cent of pure Maltose, ready to be assimilated without taxing either the ptyalin or pancreatin, which are thus free to exert their digestive action upon the other food taken at the same time as "Malta-Vita." Furnished with its own natural sweetness—maltose—"Malta-Vita" is not only convenient to use, but is also delicious to the taste.

Now for many years the medical profession have prescribed semi-solid Malt Extracts, which contain a large percentage of "Maltose," but which cost from fifty cents to seventy-five cents per pound. "Malta-Vita" contains from eight to ten per cent of this wonderful blood-maker and costs but 10 cents per package.

The malt extracts are also valuable on account of their containing the great digestive ferment—"Diastase." In the manufacture of Malta-Vita a malt extract is used, one that has been prepared in all its original purity in our own factory, which has a diastasic equivalent of over seventy degrees by the Lintner method of analysis. This diastase acts upon the wheat and converts part of the already gelatinized starch into "Maltose"—the blood-making and therefore life-giving Malt Sugar.

Physicians have another good reason for their championship of syrupy Malt Extracts. It is that they are valuable aperients, that—in addition to their food value—they give a healthy tone to the bowels and have been found very valuable in cases of severe constipation. "Malta-Vita," with over eight per cent of maltose—this wonderful aperient—presents therefore a reason for its supremacy above all other breakfast foods which cannot be gainsaid.

Malta-Vita is now 10 cents per package, the same big package you used to buy for 15 cents.

"The American public used over three million last year. Give immediate relief—do not affect the heart. At all Druggists.
